MALIGNANT DISEASE MAY FORESTALL END OF KORETZ SENTENCE

Chicago — Leo Koretz, promoter of a Panama oil scheme in which his friends and relatives invested $2,000,000, will be eligible in 11 months to a parole from the penitentiary to which he was sentenced Thursday from one to ten years.

A malignant disease, which chief justice Hopkins considered in passing sentence, may claim him as its victim before a parole board considers the case, physicians who testified indicated. His pulse since his 120 arrests has been considerable fever, they said.

Cook-co jail officials planned to start him to the penitentiary at Joliet, Ill. Friday, less than two weeks since his arrest in Halifax, N. S., and nearly a year since his exposure and flight from here.

Young Woman Slashes Arteries In Arms After Attack on Vice Consul

SOUGHT TO END RELATION

American Consular Employee Is in Serious Condition, Is Report

By Associated Press
Belgrade, Jugoslavia — Henry Dayton, the American vice consul here, was shot and seriously wounded Thursday at his home by a young woman who afterwards committed suicide by opening the veins in her forearms.

The shooting occurred during an interview between Vice Consul Dayton and the woman, Anna Ousoupskalis. During the interview, according to reports, the vice consul is said to have told the young woman that their friendship must cease. Whereupon she fired three revolver shots which entered the vice consul's neck, and then committed suicide.

Dayton's condition is said to be very serious. The affair has caused a sensation in the diplomatic body throughout the city.

Washington, D. C. — The state department lacked reports Saturday on the shooting of Vice Consul Henry A. Dayton.

He had recently been assigned to Belgrade, having been transferred to that post from Kavano, Lithuania. The vice consul was born in Atlanta, Ga., in 1897 and graduated from Auburn, N. Y., high school and from Hamilton college in 1917. He served in the army during the war and entered the consular service later as a clerk in the Kovo consulate. He was promoted to vice consul at Kovo.

Oshkosh — At the closing meeting of the Wisconsin State Grange here, that farm body adopted a resolution favoring a gasoline tax of at least two cents a gallon and in favor of returning to the old system of a uniform license rate on all autos with a special truck and bus rate. It also adopted a resolution opposing the proposed twentieth amendment to the constitution relative to child labor, declaring it would work a hardship on agricultural interests and remove to some extent parental control of children in the home. Resolutions were adopted favoring closer supervision of city residents, state issue of rural and city tuberculosis in funds for a cleanup of farm property at the true selling value, shorter sessions of the legislature, limiting them to 100 days, endorsement of cooperative marketing, construction of St. Lawrence waterway and rigid enforcement of all laws, including prohibition.

CREDITORS SEEK MISSING JEWELER

By Associated Press
St. Louis, Mo. — Jacob W. Ulfand, president of the National Jewelry Co. of St. Louis and of the Milton Watch Co., New York, which went into bankruptcy last week, has disappeared from St. Louis and creditors here and in New York, with claims of $600,000 or more, are frantically endeavoring to find him. Officers announced Friday.

A legal operations of Ulfand Friday put the Kansas Jewelry Co. here into bankruptcy and probably will put two other small St. Louis wholesale jewelry dealers into bankruptcy within a few days, according to New York representatives of the National Jewelers Board of Trade, who have been here a week investigating the situation.

FRUSTRATE ATTEMPT TO ROB POST OFFICE SAFE

By Associated Press
Racine — An attempt to rob the postoffice at Burlington was frustrated Thursday night when some things went wrong with the acetylene welding outfit used by the robbers to burn their way through the heavy steel door of the vault. The nature of the burns discovered on the vault Friday morning indicated that the attempt was interrupted almost at its inception. Elaborate preparations had been made by the robbers to screen their activities, a large canvas being used to shut off the view from the main street.

Several thousand dollars in cash and stamps were in the vault.

CHAPLIN BRIDE MEETS SCHOOL REQUIREMENTS

By Associated Press
Los Angeles, Calif. — Charles Chaplin's 16-year-old bride, formerly Miss Lillian Louise McMurtry, has met all requirements of the California compulsory schooling law, it was announced Friday by Raymond Dunlop, director of the compulsory education department here which has been investigating the case.

The state law allows part time studies for minors under 18. Dunlop explained, and a report has just been filed by Miss Margaret Peterson, tutor of the young bride, showing that she followed a 20-hour-a-week schedule of studies up to Nov. 17, 1924.

POISON WIDOW ASKS HAIRCUT BEFORE TRIAL

Attorney in Height Murder Case Objects to Mustaches of Veniremen

By Associated Press
Mt. Vernon, Ill. — The trial of Lawrence M. Hight, former U. S. attorney, and Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, for the murder of her husband, Wilford Sweetin, was in recess Friday until Monday when renewed efforts will be made to obtain a jury.

Nine jurors had been selected when the court adjourned shortly before Thursday midnight. Two others had been accepted by the defense and tentatively accepted by the state and one seat in the jury box was vacant.

All in the jury box at the close of court Thursday night were farmers except one, a Mt. Vernon factory employee.

Attorney R. E. Smith representing Mrs. Sweetin, and Attorney Nelson Layman, representing Hight, were not in accord at all times as to the selection of jurors. On several occasions men wanted by one defendant were excused on behalf of the other.

Attorney Smith made short work of all men with long mustaches insisting he would have none of this type on the jury and excused some others because Mrs. Sweetin did not like their looks.

Prosecutor Frank G. Thompson, on the other hand, excused unmarried men and young men stating he wanted a jury of men of family and mature years.

Mrs. Sweetin apparently took much more interest in the selection of the jury than Hight and conferred frequently with her attorney. Mrs. Sweetin has asked permission of her attorney to have her hair bobbed before hearing of evidence is begun. It was learned Friday.

Attorney Smith said he was undecided whether to advise bobbing.

ARRESTS DISCLOSE $100,000 ROBBERY

Negro and White Companion Arrested in Chicago When Passing Check

By Associated Press
Chicago — Two men are under arrest here as suspects in connection with what the police say was a $100,000 safety deposit box burglary in the Merchants bank building at Indiana, Ind., and $100,000 in bonds found in the possession of one of the prisoners. The suspects gave their names as Fred Graham, 32, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Alfred Henderson, a Negro.

Graham and the Negro were arrested when they appeared at a local bank and attempted to cash a check for $125.88 which they had received from a broker to whom they had sold a number of bonds. The broker acted examining the securities and believing them to have been stolen in a burglary at Indianapolis communicated with his bank and ordered payment on the check stopped.

The broker's warning to the bank was relayed to the other banks and to the police and the suspects were taken into custody when they presented the check at the Franklin Trust Savings bank on the south side.

GREAT CONSOLIDATION IS NEARLY COMPLETED

By Associated Press
New York — Consolidation of the real estate holdings of the United States Realty and Investment Co. and those of T. Coleman Dupont, involving the Plaza and Waldorf-Astoria hotels, the Flatiron, Whitehall, Fuller and Trinity buildings and the New York Hippodrome in this city, the Coppley-Plaza hotel in Boston, the Bellevue-Stratford in Philadelphia and the New Willard in Washington, have nearly been completed, according to reports circulated in Wall-st. Friday.

EXAMINE CODE IN TRIAL OF FORBES

Chicago — The secret code agreed upon by the alleged conspirators in the Veterans Bureau hospital construction program, was examined Friday by the jury in the trial of Charles R. Forbes, the former director of the bureau, and John W. Thompson, St. Louis contractor.

Elmer H. Mortimer, chief government witness, said the code was prepared by C. B. Hurley, Seattle contractor, for use by himself, Mortimer, Forbes, Thompson's partner, and others in the alleged conspiracy. The code word for Forbes was "Maddox" and for Forbes' secretary, Sweet, it was "Pickles."

Mortimer testified he gave Forbes his copy of the code and a little red dictionary, used as the key at Herndon Lake, Ill.

PAIR DENIES GUILT IN MADISON SLAYING

By Associated Press
Madison — Sam Dimartino and Frank Vitale pleaded not guilty to charges of murder in connection with slaying of Father John Herbert Drager who was slain before County Judge A. C. Hoppman here Friday.

The men were remanded to the county jail to be held without bail pending an order.

The Madison order of the K. K. K. has volunteered its services in seeking out the responsible parties for the murder, according to its officials. A body of Klansmen will attend Drager's funeral Saturday, it is stated.

Cairo Plot Causes Stir In Britain

By Associated Press
London — The British cabinet ministers and many other officials of state went about their duties Friday accompanied by body guards as a precaution against violence by Egyptian sympathizers.

The discovery in Cairo of a plot in which the prime movers were asserted to have been planning outrages against the British ministers was communicated to London Thursday and placed before the cabinet here. That body immediately took steps to safeguard itself and the others concerned.

In the official departments to which the plot was revealed it was stated Friday that the facts were meagre, that the exact extent of the plot and activities was not known, and that the bodyguards were being used as more of a precaution than against the existence of any imminent danger.

On the other hand, deputy sheriffs Thursday night announced that fingerprints of Dr. Edwards, killed in the murder of Mrs. Annie Lou Edwards, wife of a prominent physician, Jeff. Jerson-co officials Friday were pursuing their investigations, seeking a solution of the maze of conflicting evidence surrounding the case.

Mrs. Edwards was found slain early Tuesday with her skull crushed. Her husband, Dr. George T. Edwards, is being held in connection with her death.

"One of the clues if successfully developed, officers said will go far toward substantiating the claim of the accused doctor that his wife was drugged with a powerful anesthetic and then slain by an intruder, and that he afterwards was awakened by the intruder and shot in the hand while trying to wrest the man's gun away from him.

This clue is that the officers have been told that a man without a coat was seen leaving Fairfield, the fashionable suburb where the Edwards lived, a few minutes after Dr. Edwards gave the alarm. The officers say their information was that the fleeing man who was in an automobile appeared wounded in the shoulder. Dr. Edwards claimed to have fired three shots at the intruder in his home.

WESTERN STATES IN GRIP OF ICE AS SLEET FALLS

Train, Telephone and Telegraph Service Hampered by First Storm

By Associated Press
Chicago — Interrupted telephone and telegraph communication, more than 2,000 broken poles in Nebraska and Kansas, and delayed trains throughout the west central states were the results of the first snow and sleet storm of the winter which was moving north and east Friday.

The fury of the elements was abating in the sections where damage estimated at more than $2,000,000 was done, and forecasts were that the territory in the path of the storm would escape with a minimum of destruction if any.

Nebraska and Iowa were hardest hit, with railroad and commercial lines crippled or put out of commission for miles west of Omaha. Wind conditions caused train delays as far west as the Rocky Mountain states.

A heavy snowfall in the northwestern states was reported Friday with from several inches to a foot or more in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and parts of Iowa. Sioux City, Ia., had ten inches of snow in 24 hours, with handicapped street car service. Sioux Falls had seven inches.

States in the vicinity of Colorado were buried under several inches of snow, Walsenburg, Colo., having 18 inches. Temperatures in the entire storm territory hovered around the freezing point, making the precipitation beneficial for winter wheat, according to bureau reports.

In Iowa the unfrozen ground permitted the moisture to enter freely and in the Kansas wheat belt it broke a long drought.

Snow and rain, with slightly lowered temperatures, was forecast for the weekend in the Great Lakes region. Northern Michigan was the coldest section with the mercury at ten above zero at Sault Ste. Marie.

On the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard, moderate winter weather prevailed. Rain was general along the Pacific coast from Vancouver, B. C., to San Francisco, but precipitation was slight. Snow fell in the Sierra Nevada mountains.

In most of the eastern states temperatures were well above freezing although cloudy skies indicated coming inclement weather.

IMPLEMENT DEALERS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

By Associated Press
Milwaukee — William Beck, Seymour, former vice president of the Wisconsin Implement Dealers' association, Friday succeeded to the presidency of the organization at the closing session of the nineteenth annual convention here.

E. J. McGeehan, DePere, was elected vice president, and Frank Hein, Ladysmith, and Adolph Schwarze, Greenwood, directors.

A secretary-treasurer will be selected Friday night by the board of directors. R. G. Nuss, Madison, probably will succeed himself in this position.

The convention was one of the most successful in years.

Hanover Slayer Admits Murder of 14 Young Men and Asks to Be Executed Before Christmas

Hanover, Germany — "I want to be dead before Christmas," is the intent of a German butcher, whose trial for the murder of 27 young men since 1913 opened here Thursday.

Haarmann, who at the time of his arrest gloated over the murders he had committed, now acts like a man violently insane, jumping about, excitedly tearing his hair, and suddenly breaking off in the middle of sentences, apparently losing continuity of thought. He stubbornly declines suggestions from the court that he retire for a while and try to calm himself, insisting on having the trial hurried along.

Haarmann confessed to the murder of 14 of those he is accused of slaying, but agrees with suggestion that his victims may have exceeded this number. He admits cutting up the bodies and disposing of them, but he says usually took him two days, but denies selling the flesh as animal meat.

References to his late father invariably provoked outbursts from the prisoner.

"My last word before being beheaded will be a curse upon my father," he cried on one occasion.

Fingerprints on Anesthetic Bottles Those of Doctor, Dep- uties Assert

Birmingham, Ala. — Working on two diametrically opposed clues in the murder of Mrs. Annie Lou Edwards, wife of a prominent physician, Jeff. Jerson-co officials Friday were pursuing their investigations, seeking a solution of the maze of conflicting evidence surrounding the case.

GIRL IS INJURED IN MORON ATTACK

Two Young Women Escape Attempts of Attackers Thursday Night

Chicago, Ill. — Attempted attacks by moron hordes Thursday night resulted in serious injuries to one young woman and escapes by two others.

The injured girl, a chemist and a graduate of Cornell, was found with a probably fractured skull, broken collar bone and dislocated shoulder on a pavement of the Midway, a southside boulevard. She refused to answer questions of the police who believed she was thrown from a speeding automobile. She resisted efforts of hospital physicians to determine the extent of her injuries.

Another girl fought her Negro assailant off with teeth and finger nails, according to the police. The third intended victim, seized by a man in front of the home of her cousin was released when her cousin, attracted by her screams, fired several shots at the attackers.

Police Seek New Evidence in Kenosha Slaying of Saloon- keeper

By Associated Press
Kenosha — Efforts to find further traces of the three masked bandits, who according to the story of Paul Jurik, Kenosha saloon keeper, entered a saloon here late Thursday night and shot to death George Balazs, a partner in the saloon, and probably fatally injured Jurik, the police here have called Mrs. Anna Jurik, wife of the saloonkeeper, to the office for questioning.

Mrs. Jurik told the police Thursday night that she had seen one of the bandits as he rushed out of the door. She has been constantly at the bedside of her husband at the Kenosha hospital where he is hovering between life and death, having been shot three times through the abdomen, in the shoulder and in the right hand.

An investigation into the business affairs of the two partners is being made to find if some motive other than robbery may be found for the holdup and murder.

DEMOCRATS DEMORALIZED

But even if there had been sharply defined recommendations with a distinct challenge in them to the opposition in congress, there would be at this particular moment less response than usual. This is because the Democrats are almost completely demoralized. They haven't gotten over the shock of the last defeat. They can't make up their minds what they ought to do. First they say they had ideal candidate — a man of brains and real capacity. They thought of the mistakes of the Republican administration, namely the Teapot Dome scandal and the Forbes controversy in the Veterans Bureau, but still the country didn't react. If the party can't win on the mistakes of the incumbent party what can it win on?

So runs the talk in Democratic quarters and it accounts not a little for the absence of vehement comment on the president's message. The Democrats are really wondering whether they can get anything by ignoring the conservative mood of the country and tying up with the radicals. The opposition party, however, is never in a hurry to shape its course. It is usually conspicuous for waiting its chance to obstruct and embarrass when the majority party tries to make a legislative record.

Coolidge Pledges Agricultural Aid On Chicago Visit

MURDER, SUICIDE THEORY WHEN BODIES ARE FOUND

By Associated Press
Rockford, S. C. — The bodies of Mrs. Frank Simpson, 38, and J. T. Cornwell, 35, were found Friday in an automobile parked on a highway about two miles from Rockhill. The woman was shot through the body and Cornwell, in whose hand a revolver was found, had a wound through his head. Authorities expressed the opinion that it was a case of murder and suicide.

STATE BEEKEEPERS REELECT GWIN CHIEF

By Associated Press
Madison — James Gwin, Gotham, Wis., was reelected president of the Wisconsin State Beekeepers association for the third time at concluding sessions of the annual convention here Friday. Miss Malitta D. Fischer, Madison, was reelected secretary and L. T. Bishop, Sheboygan, vice president. William Sasse Jr., Fond du Lac, was elected treasurer.

Democrats Fail To Oppose Policies In Coolidge's Message

Disastrous Defeat in Recent Election Causes Opposition Party to Withhold Action

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1924 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C. — Rarely has a congress accepted with such placidity the message of a president of the United States. Not only are the Republicans in harmony with it but the Democrats show hardly a natural hostility to it.

This may or may not be due to the fact that Mr. Coolidge has failed to protect anything new on the legislative screen. The world court is almost a backnamed controversy. Economists are something everybody advocates. Reduction of armament is an objective which no party would oppose. Investigation of agriculture to find the needed remedies for times of stress is commended on all sides. Revision of taxes when the government cannot fail to approve, and as for beginning "tax reform," congress from itself out last season debated the question of surtaxes and their direct or indirect effect on the economic condition of the country. Since Mr. Coolidge doesn't mention specific rates or amendments to the present law, the opposition doesn't find anything into which to put its teeth.

Mr. Coolidge, has not started any political warfare by his message though to be sure some of the things he suggests will be a long time finding their way into legislation due to the lines of cleavage between classes in the American economic system.

WOMAN OF WISCONSIN AWAKENS AFTER SLEEP OF SEVENTEEN MONTHS

Marinette — Mrs. Otto Stefanczyk, 33, Pound, Wis., became conscious Friday after being under a veil of unconsciousness for 17 months, during which time her case has baffled physicians called from several cities in northern Wisconsin. She has left the hospital and is back at her home Friday where she asks for her children, the youngest of three having been only two weeks old when she went into her long period of sleep.

Physicians who attended Mrs. Stefanczyk 113 days and a few hours of unconsciousness, never uttered a word and with eyes closed she scarcely breathed. Liquid nourishment, they said, was given her through a tube.

The woman, although greatly emaciated and very weak, will regain her health again in a short time, according to her physician.

TWO BADLY INJURED WHEN CAR OVERTURNS

By Associated Press
Racine — An automobile carrying H. Thompson of Kenosha and Herman Paulson of Racine, turned turtle at the subway underneath the Northwestern railroad tracks five miles north of here late Thursday. The men were brought to a hospital here by a passing motorist. Thompson is in an unconscious condition and is thought to be suffering from a concussion of the brain.

Paulson has a fractured leg. The license on the machine is listed as belonging to O. Christensen of Kenosha.

LYNCHINGS DECREASE, CHURCH COUNCIL SAYS

By Associated Press
Atlanta, Ga. — Such progress has been made in the fight against lynching in America that the churches are working with the full expectation of keeping the year 1925 free from lynching. This was revealed Friday in the report of the commission on church and race relations to the fifth quadrennial meeting of the Federal Council of Churches here. Up to Nov. 1, of this year there were 13 lynchings in the United States, a drop of 50 per cent compared with the same period for 1923, the report shows.

President Leaves Middle West With New Idea of Farm Possibilities

SEEKS REST ABOARD TRAIN

By Associated Press
Enroute to Washington with President Coolidge — Garrett, Ind. — Learning with the middle west a new pronouncement on the farm problem and carrying with him a new picture of the possibilities of the agricultural states President Coolidge was enroute back to Washington Friday after his visit to Chicago.

The new declaration on the agricultural question made by the executive in an address Thursday night at the international livestock exposition, embraced a pledge of continued and increased government aid to farmers, and an appeal to the country's agriculturists to take full advantage of the governmental assistance. The new insight into the possibilities of the nation's farms was gained during a visit to the livestock exposition, where he viewed the prize products of the soil.

The dozen hours that Mr. Coolidge spent Thursday in Chicago made up a strenuous day and Friday he took advantage of the long ride to Washington to obtain some rest. He and his party will reach the capital early Friday night.

TALKS TO STOCKMEN

The route taken by the train on which the President and Mrs. Coolidge traveled, one of the regular Chicago to Washington trains, took the executive through Akron, O., Connellyville, Pa., Cumberland, Md. and Martinsburg, W. Va.

Stopping to about 500 stockmen gathered in Chicago for the exposition. Mr. Coolidge declared every prospect seemed to indicate that the nation was starting on a new era in agricultural prosperity. As for the livestock product, he advised wiser production, more efficient marketing and more intelligent utilization of meat products.

"The government was prepared to do much for the farmer, he said, but added that the farmer needed to understand all the facilities that have been created wherever he adopts the method, because unwisdom in adopting the method would nullify the advantages which were forthcoming.

In addition to the addresses at the livestock exposition and inspection of exhibits, he also made a speech to Chicago businessmen at a luncheon of the Commercial Club and held a session of more conferences. He also found time during his busy day to answer the telephone with Vice President-elect Dawes, who at his home in Evanston is recovering from a recent operation. He inquired as to Mr. Dawes' condition and expressed regret that he would be unable to see him during his stay in Chicago.

ESTHONIAN REDS ARE SLAIN IN NIGHT SIEGE

Reval, Esthonia — Three Communists including ex-Deputy Somerling of the Esthonian parliament, were killed and three policemen wounded during a nightlong siege by the police of a house in which participants of the recent Communist outbreak had taken refuge. The house was surrounded Thursday night and firing by both sides lasted until daybreak when the police effected an entrance.

The certain salesman that collected twelve prospective customers in two days was a "For Sale" ad inserted in the Appleton Post-Crescent classified columns by a Post-Crescent reader. Of course the couch went quickly.

Results like this are not uncommon for the salesman that work through the Post-Crescent column.

42 BIRTHS AND 31 DEATHS HERE DURING OCTOBER

Stork Has Jump on Reaper, Health Officer's Report Shows

Forty-two children were born in Appleton in October, according to the vital statistics report of Dr. W. C. Nelson, city health commissioner. The number includes children of parents who are not residents of the city. There were 75 per cent as many deaths as births, the number being 31, but in this case also a number of the deaths were out of town residents. Only six marriages were reported for Appleton during the same period.

The health commissioner issued 53 burial permits during the month. He made 55 visits in the capacity of city physician and health officer and received 23 office visits.

Twelve cases of contagious diseases were reported to the office during the month. Four of these were diphtheria, three scarlet fever, two small pox and one of typhoid, tuberculosis and chicken pox. But the city is practically clear of contagion.

According to the monthly report of George Merkel, deputy health officer, he had quarantined twelve homes, fumigated 20 homes, placed three homes not quarantined and released four from quarantine during the month. He also made 31 sanitary inspections, 18 food inspections, 13 milk tests and two cream tests.

FLUNKERS FORM CELLAR GANG TO BOLSTER MARKS

The Cellar Gang—latest campus organization! It is composed of Lawrence freshmen who "flunked" the grammar examination given Oct. 20, and which must be passed before credit is given in the course. The students have been holding weekly meetings since that time to receive instructions in grammar. The class in practice English teaching has been practicing on them. Monday night the Gang members were privileged to take another examination, and those who passed left the group. It was decided that the one receiving the lowest mark was to have the title of permanent president.

PETRIFIED INSECTS ARE ADDED TO COLLEGE MUSEUM

The most recent purchase of the college museum is twenty fossil insects of an extinct species petrified in amber. The amber in which the fossil remains are preserved is the same as the amber used for beads. The insects are classified as Oligocene, which pertains to the second in order of age of the series of strata comprised in the Tertiary system. They have been mounted and are on exhibition in the museum.

SHOE COMPANY OFFERS PRIZES FOR AD WRITERS

Prizes are to be awarded to the three students who wrote the best advertisements in a contest conducted recently by the G. A. Kinney Company shoe store for students of the first period junior English class in Appleton high school. The advertisements were published in "The Tinsman," the high school paper. W. J. Bush, manager of the shoe store, explained the contest to the class and then invited the students to visit his store and examine the articles to be advertised.

CONCRETE MAKES BEST PAVEMENT, OFFICIALS LEARN

Inspection Trip Confirms Mayor
in Belief That Concrete
Should Be Used

Concrete will be the prevailing type of street pavement of the future, it was observed by Mayor John Goodland, Jr., who together with R. M. Connelly, city engineer, and Alderman L. O. Hansen and William Egert have returned from a trip to Chicago where they inspected pavements.

While in the midwest metropolises the officials gave special attention to the vibratolite type of concrete pavements. A pavement of that nature was laid on Lehighway-st last year. It was the first of its kind in the city and was put down as an experiment. It was observed that concrete is becoming the principal type of pavement of the heavily traveled streets of Chicago outside the loop district. Previous objections to concrete because of its noise no longer are heard because most wheels are now rubber tired. Great improvements have been made in the method of construction to withstand heavy traffic.

USE CONCRETE HERE
Of the five miles of streets to be paved in Appleton next year it is probable that most of them or even all of them will be of concrete, although the city council will when advertising for bids ask for specifications on three different types of pavement. There is little probability of a brick pavement even for Cherry and Richmond-which probably will become two of the busiest thoroughfares of the city. Concrete pavements have not borne up well under traffic for the water seeping through the blocks into the sand bottoms have caused blocks to sink and bring about troublesome elevations in the pavement, which the street department is constantly called upon to repair.

It was admitted, however, that concrete pavements are now being constructed more satisfactorily, and that sagging and bulging are prevented by waterproofing the foundation for the blocks. Pavements in the Chicago loop are all of concrete, it was observed.

There are cities that have shown considerable preference to asphalt, and this type of pavement is frequently to be found on the long boulevards in Chicago. Cities farther south have not adopted asphalt because of its tendency to deteriorate under the hot summer sun.

Council Dissolves Into Committee Of Four After Voting Raze In Salary

Dear Boss.

I wanna put U wuz 2 sumpin' wot don't smell rite, coz they's been sum strange goings on in the city jail. I ast a feller wot a long nose wot was hangin' aroun'—not the nose but the feller, U know wot I mean, an' I ast him wot it woz an' he sez a lot of Gazooks wuz tryin' to u-sgrupp the council, but a odder feller who had a strangle holt on his suspenders spit on the wall an' sez it is a experimint in city government.

The way how it cum I wuz down in the library for a book on robinsum Caruso wot I started las' february but cuddin' finish cuz of all them piecez kazzeta U giv me an' herd a lowd noise wot sounded like poundin' an' I ast Uptstairs an' sez a fat feller sittin at a desk on a stage an' hull lot of odder fellers sittin at desks all aroun' him, &&& when I ast the big nose guy he sez it was a lot of city ossifiers who wuz doin the u-sgrupp. they was a man by the name of Al Root in the big chair an' everybod' called him Mayor, then they wuz G. Prim, Fred Morris, Jake Elle, Joe Hodgins, Geo. McGillum, G. Fyotter, John bower, Fred Backman and Geo. Miracle all sittin in the Ollermans chairs. An' den they dragged in the city Hall reporter and tole him he was city Clerk and 2 sit down, but they cuddin' fool me, coz if he's the city Clerk, I'm the Mayor hammer.

Everybuddy was laffin' but I diddent near nobuddy crack a joke an' just then the feller they calls Mayor Root cracks the reporter over the hed and tole him "the Clerk will now read the Roll" he had a roll of papers an' wells everybuddys name, but they wuz so much noise nobuddy cud a heard him. Den sum feller sed sumbuddy ought to make a mushun 2 dispense with readin' the minnits and he tole the honor ought to go to Prim as seener Ollerman fum the first Ward, but the gent got up and sez he bows to Ollerman Fie fum the second Ward, but I diddent see him make enny bow.

an' so the minnits wuz dispensed an' the Mayor tuk a drink fum a pitcher. 'Nen a long feller got up and sez, Yer Honnor, and the fat feller on the platform sez Huh! 'i move, sez the long one, I move yer honnor that this body of men now declare itself the legally constittuted authorities of this city an' that the former governm'n be overthrown."

everybuddy sed Yeh and the guy they calls Mayor hammers on the table wid a mallet and yelled "it is moved and carried wot Ollerman McGillum sez, all favor say I and all agin it say No, an' wuz everybuddy yellin a bunch sayin' yeh and sum no like at a baseball game, an' the Mayor hammers agin and sez "the mushun is seconded and the Clerk will spread it all over the minnits." an' the news bound wot they called the Clerk did the spreadin.

Just then Ollerman Hodgins riz fum his chair and sed he moves his feller that his pitcher be hung on the wall with the pitchers of the rest of the mayors, and the fat guy sez the pitcher will be moved an' carried.

They wuz lots of more movin', everybuddy wuz movin' yer Honnor, but the fat guy in the mayors chair jes kept on settin, but I don't know wot they did wid his honer an' didn't see it moved out of the room nohow.

all at once Ollerman riz and waved his arms like he wanted a figst. Yer Honnor he hollers, I see lotsa reports here but I don't see the monthly report of Charlie Emdor, the official dog catcher, av he don't bring in a reglar monthly report hereinafter I move we take away the big tin star we giv him last spring.

the first thing the fellers did after they sed they was gormanzed wuz to vote all city ossifiers a raze in pay. the clerk whispered to the mayor, he should refer it to the street comittie, and a ollerman sed, Yeh, with power to ak, but the feller they called his Oner, sed nosir, this don't get referred.

Ollerman Beckman looked over the city ossifiers' reports and found that the city Poor had had spent $18 for drugs and he wanted 2 know right away pronto wot kind of drugs they wuz. "That reminds me, sez Ollerman Prim, that the new boiler aught 2 be investigated." an' everybuddy lafard, but I cuddin' see wot wuz funny bout that.

when the noiz was bigest in come a feller who they called Tem Morrisey and the Mayor ast him ef he had a remonstranz, and he sed no, and 'nen they ast him ef he had a petishum, an' he sed no, all he wanted wuz to be let alone, but wen he walked up to file the city Poor dad to wespier sumpin in his ear, the gang hold on, the council is gettin corrupt already, an' no securit meetin' aloud. folks wuz worried about wot the ole council wuz doin' so long in the comittie room so long an' the mayor sed he apints the clerk a comittie

"The ollerman fum the 4th ward hez the floor," bawls the mayor as he pounded his hammer, an' a man named Fyotter riz to make a mushun that the Union Sistem of skules be here and now put into effek, and the gang sed Yeh.

Just as they was passin' a home brew amendmen' 12 men came in from a side room wid a big feller at the hed an' anudder carryin, a armful of papers a ollerman ariz to say, Yer honer I muv we now dissolve ourselves to pieces in a comittie of the hole. Resolved we crawl into the hole, the fat feller hollers, everbuddy say I.

HURRY UP PLUMBING AS WINTER APPROACHES

Owners of new homes are hurrying to complete their plumbing, and that is one reason why the records of John Bauer, city plumbing inspector, show a marked activity for October. According to the monthly report he submitted to the common council Wednesday evening, he collected $168.50 for permit and inspection fees, $34.50 for permits for plumbing fixtures and $84 for permits for trenches. The latter included 26 permits for sewers, two for sewer repairs and 30 for water services on contract. The fixtures were as follows: Floor drains 40, wash basins 26, water closets 41, sinks 28, bath tubs 20, laundry tubs 2, shower baths 1, drinking fountains 1.

THE FRENCH DEBT PROPOSAL

France approaches the United States on the subject of war debt settlement. She has unofficially intimated a desire to make an arrangement for the funding of her indebtedness into a low rate, long term bond, with a moratorium of some five years in which no interest will be paid. The interest rate beginning at two per cent, and rising later to a higher figure. This move, following the debt settlement reached with Great Britain in January of 1923, definitely disposes of the idea cherished in Europe that the war time obligations of the allies to the United States might be cancelled.

The plan outlined by France represents very much easier terms than those accepted by Great Britain, which provide no moratorium, and three per cent interest at the beginning with three and one-half after the first ten years. It is suggested that Great Britain might object to such a settlement with France or advance the contention that its own terms ought to be modified in accordance with those extended to France. This argument is not necessarily sound. Each case in debt settlement should stand by itself, depending upon a number of factors such as the ability of the debtor to pay, the circumstances surrounding the original advancement of money, and the manner in which the terms might affect the restoration of Europe and the party concerned.

If we deemed it expedient to make greater concessions to France than we did to Great Britain, that would be our own affair, just as the point raised by Great Britain regarding the precedence of payment by France to her is a matter between those nations.

How the government at Washington might feel toward the reported plan of France is not made known, but there is little doubt that public sentiment would indorse any arrangement the president saw fit to recommend so long as the debt is recognized and its payment at a reasonable time in the future is promised.

THE CHRISTMAS-SEAL CAMPAIGN

The Wisconsin Tuberculosis association is at work all the time: it approaches the public, requesting funds, only once a year, at the time when men's moods are attuned to generosity. Between Thanksgiving and Christmas it must raise money for the entire year of 1925.

One-quarter of the present century, nearly elapsed, shows a striking decline in the tuberculosis rate, conclusively showing it to be a preventable disease, in most cases at least. And still it is not prevented; mankind does not use the knowledge it possesses.

The Christmas seals offered for sale at this season brighten and adorn letters of good cheer. They also help to save lives by the dissemination of knowledge upon means of fighting a disease that is no longer mysterious, and by actual fighting to put it out of business for good.

THE PARK OF EDEN

Dr. James Moffat, a well-known Scotch theologian, has modernized the Bible by translating it in the language, and as far as possible, in the manner of thinking, of the people of this materialistic and inventive age. He holds, it is said, that a new translation of the Good Book should be made for each generation.

As long as the character, integrity and veracity of the Bible are preserved, the Bible should not harm any one's spirit or intellect. There is nothing wrong with the Bible. But it is the hands and sons of men, of those who do not read it, as well as some of those who do not, are not bent constantly in the right direction, and it is possible that this inspired work may be studied without benefit and even to misunderstanding.

In substance and style the Bible is the most beautiful book. Its morals, lessons, parables and chronicles are all simple, and all are written in simple language. When simply read, its meanings are clear.

Dr. Moffat apparently does not have a very high opinion of the average mental state of modern folk. He calls the ark a barge and the Garden of Eden a park. Is not this modernized simplicity not only a sinister reflection on modern understanding, but also, in one way, a misinterpretation?

It is not enough to call the ark a barge, as it is unlike any other sort of barge. To bring out the point differently, let us say that there are several kinds of barges. The ark is a simple, descriptive word, describing Noah's vessel more clearly than any other. A park and a garden are not the same. Flowers are associated with a garden; a garden is a place of plenty abloom with beauty. A park would be a park though it contained no garden.

We are not quarreling with Dr. Moffat or condemning him. If he can cause people to read the Bible by interesting them in it, he will have helped them. The Bible is the most popular and most widely circulated of all books—as it should be. It is also and always will be the greatest piece of literature of the world. Is it as generally read as its large circulation implies?

Persons who read the Bible think. It compels them to think in spiritual terms. This is why thousands imagine it is sedate. As a matter of fact, it is very clear, interesting, entertaining and inspiring.

OUR UNIVERSITIES

John D. Rockefeller made his final contribution to the University of Chicago in 1920. Now the institution requires additional funds from the same source from which others derive it—the public.

The university seeks $17,500,000 for its 1924 program. For endowment of teaching and research there will be set aside $6,500,000, $3,000,000 for development of the colleges, $3,400,000 for service buildings. It is proposed to double within fifteen years the institution's present resources of $54,000,000.

A university is a great business institution. It is profitable not in the sense that it earns money, but in the sense that it distributes benefits. Public support of all worthy educational institutions should increase with the years. It is a high-grade investment in national progress, prosperity and security. But the small universities and colleges should not be overlooked. In some respects they are performing better service than the great schools. They should be adequately supported.

LETTERS.

IT'S easy enough just to promise you'll write and with friends of yours keep in close touch. But the thought dies away, when the friend's out of sight, though the task never amounts to so much.

Some relatives visit you; then go away, with requests that you drop them a card. You promise, but hesitate, day after day. Why is it that we write so hard?

Do draft them in paper, right ready at hand, that your purchased for letters and such, but it seems that you never can quite understand why you seldom are using much.

In just a short time you could dash off a note that would put friends on the way of the day. But postponing writing we all seem to do, though we are compensated at last as we would pay.

Just take a night off, write the letters you owe, for in writing a waste lot depends. You'll find that the letters to friends that you know will help them to always be friends.

(Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

Our guests, our offhand, is that half the men living at their watches don't care much what we think.

Movie production will be reduced, so maybe they will show the same films over instead of just the same plays.

Somebody could make a good movie of a mad dog chasing a tax collector for miles and miles and miles.

These Chicago folks think they have found another test of love. You can find plenty in a man's teeth.

There was a man in 1666 A. D. gave a woman a ring. She was worried about 1666 A. D. in the end of the century.

We each desire to follow our own popular or if it is not being popular, that makes them foolish.

Good old-fashioned is a generous in Chicago people each gold they are at it to open their mouth.

Wouldn't it be too bad if we were all as bad as our member think?

In Boston the center of culture, a man gave up his life. He couldn't find a balance of work.

It is a fact that leaves of you if you don't live up to your ideals without using any energy.

EVOLUTIONARY CONGESTION.

In our argument about piles the other day, it is possible you may recall if you're a sufferer, we closed with an allusion to the upright posture as a predisposing cause. For my part I always prefer to finish an argument before it becomes a quarrel. For that matter if there were any further argument the quarrel would not occur, would it? If you will permit me to mention only a few of the ills and defects which are due primarily to man's present more or less upright posture I am sure we shall not quarrel. Hernia (rupture, breach), ptosis, round shoulders, scoliosis (spinal curvature), flat feet, many cases of backache, scapula, many cases of so-called indigestion, displacement, the blues, varicose veins, varicocoele and piles. Do you remember the experiment on the rabbit? The tame rabbit succumbed after 13 hours in the erect attitude, but the wild rabbit endured this attitude for three days. The tame rabbit was of course on the same evolutionary plane as the wild rabbit, but the wild one had better physical training, and so it took longer to bleed him to death into his own splanchnic pool (the vast network of blood vessels in the abdomen and lower part of the chest).

The same rabbit was more dignified than the wild one. He didn't have to exert himself very much to get good food. He didn't have to run around or walk much. He was a sedentary individual. Now please don't be mad if you think I am comparing you with a rabbit; I had rather make you wild.

Those whose occupation requires prolonged sitting are likely to develop hemorrhoids, particularly when the sitting posture is that of fatigue, as it is in most cases. Sitting in an erect posture is not a contributing factor of varicocoele of the veins. The harmful part is the slump that comes with fatigue. Few persons can maintain an erect sitting posture for hours without relaxing and slumping and sliding down in seat or chair. A fair physical training is necessary to maintain an erect sitting posture—the chin in, chest up, back straight, belly not drawn in yet not relaxed. When your chin sinks in and your back goes up back, your chest sinks in and your belly relaxes, you are practically having a hemorrhage into your own splanchnic pool. A lot of blood which should be in circulation collects in the great network of veins in the abdomen—the cavity behind the belly, correctly speaking—and the lower part of the chest cavity. You can pump it back into your general circulation again by deliberately bracing yourself, assuming a vigorously erect posture, even as you sit at work. Don't get mad about this, but no harm comes from a habit of bracing yourself in this way every hour by the clock, wherever you may be and what ever you may be doing.

When you have one of these bloodless hemorrhages I just described there is an associated congestion in the veins generally, and the veins without valves particularly. That makes it bad for the hemorrhoidal veins. That is the main reason why sedentary folk are more subject to piles than those who get a reasonable amount of exercise every day. I call this evolutionary congestion because it was a gift to the race from the chap who invented the chair.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Raw Potatoes.

We have used nothing but aluminum ware for cooking and kitchen in our family for 12 years, and we are a pretty healthy crew. Will you please tell me whether raw potatoes, three or four times a day, harm children. Also whether it is injurious to take ice cream or other cold beverages at time of summer menstruation. (Mrs. N. F. C.)

Answer.—The popular misapprehension about aluminum ware is without foundation. I think it is all right for children to eat their potatoes raw if they prefer them raw, and it is even advisable for everybody to take something of the kind raw every day, potato, carrot, celery, cabbage, lettuce, green, unmillied wheat, brown (unpolished) or wild rice, bran, etc. Ice cream, cold oranges are as wholesome at one time as at another.

A temporary truce has been called in the battle for the union in Appleton.

Friday morning an old slogan, forgotten since Feb. 22, 1923, was resumed. It is, "Watch Your Step."

Now is the time to put the skills on the auto if you still want to navigate.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

Say! If you had just hit the boss for a raise on the ground that you could hardly make ends meet, to say nothing of saving on your present salary. AS I HAD. And it happened that you had a date with your wife for that night and you went to a downtown theatre. AS WE DID. And while waiting for seats you discovered you were standing in line just ahead of the boss and his wife. AS I DID. Just what would you say then? —LEW-ISS

Main Street Is As Choice As Broadway

BY FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—The attractions of Main-st have triumphed over those of Broadway in a recent test. A New York refining company decided to move its office force to the little Illinois town where the company's refinery was located. The proposal was put up to the clerks, salesmen, and executives of the New York headquarters.

These dyed-in-the-wool Manhattanites were told that if they would try life in the middle west for six months, they would be given return expenses for themselves, their families, and their household goods. If they wished to get back to the metropolis. Out of 300 employees, only 19 asked for return passage at the end of the experimental period.

BOUGHT HOMES

The rest have adjusted themselves to a new kind of existence, far removed from the world of subways, congested traffic, theatrical first nights, two-dollar movies, skyscrapers and large department stores. They found that in a town of 7,000 there is decided scarcity of apartments with automatic refrigerators, trick beds, and switchboard and janitor service. But for a small deposit and monthly payments less than city apartment rents it was possible to buy a bungalow and most of the employees adopted this solution of the housing problem.

The newcomers to the Illinois town were pleased to discover that country club life, which in New York was known to most of them only by hearsay, was a practical possibility in their new community. They also found that New York salaries could be stretched surprisingly far in a place where inducements to spend money were fewer and less persuasive. A good many of the employees of the company invested in automobiles for the first time. Back home garage rent was as much a problem as the original cost of the car, but the garage question is negligible in a small community.

TOWN "BUCKED UP"

The shops and the movies of Main-st were a new life to the wives and daughters of the employees when they first arrived from the city that "gets everything first." This seemingly serious drawback was somewhat lessened by the strenuous efforts of the town's business men to attract the 300 new residents from the city.

These details show that from a sociological viewpoint the refining company's move might be considered successful. The transplanted white collar workers are reported to be satisfied and thriving in their new environment. The refining company reports that in its case the policy of conducting its entire business in a small town is successful. Officials of the firm find that greater efficiency is obtained in the small town, because the morale of the employees is better. More fresh air, outdoor sports, home cooking, calmer nerves, less time loss from illness and late commutation trains are said to have resulted in more rested and more alert workers. Team spirit is also increased. It is found when the producing, administrative, and distributing divisions are all together each worker has a clearer understanding of the function of the individual and of the department as parts of a great whole.

The amount ordinarily spent by the firm for a year's office rent in New York was sufficient to build a concrete building in the new location. Operating all departments of the business in one place eliminated the delays and costs formerly incidental to communication.

We asked 20 men what they wanted for Christmas and 15 answered 'Eagle Shirts'

Whether he prefers silk, madras, poplin or flannel—

Whether it's for Monday or Sunday he wears a shirt every day—and at Christmas time, Ladies, he needs shirts—expects shirts—and loves shirts.

Depend on this huge gala stock for the shirts—for the size, qualities, the authentic patterns and the right sleeve lengths.

You simply choose the pattern you would best like to see him in and we take care of all the other specifications, including the size, neck and sleeve length.

At $2.00 to $5.00 at the store he buys his own shirts.

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

THE ADVENTURES OF A FIRST BOOK

Thomas Beer, in his charming biography, "Stephen Crane, A Study in American Letters," published this year and which I heartily recommend as an example of fascinating biography, tells the curious story of the adventures of the first full length novel written by Stephen Crane. It autographed the now famous "Red Badge of Courage," to which I have devoted an earlier "Adventure," by four or five years and it was called "Maggie: A Girl of the Street." It is a little known book and not having read it I cannot speak for the book itself but the adventures of the manuscript are interesting.

It is described by Thomas Beer as a realistic study of life in the Bowery. The young Stephen Crane—he was under 21 when he wrote the book—was intimately acquainted with the life he described, and readers who know Stephen Crane's other work will understand that he did not gloss over or falsify. This was in the early nineties of the last century when Zola had accustomed France to plain speaking but when Victorianism was at its most respectable stage in England and America. The obscure boy's book that called a spade a spade must have seemed like wild stuff to the editors and publishers of that day.

SHOCKED GILDER

He took it to the office of the Century magazine of which Richard Watson Gilder was then editor. The book shocked Gilder greatly even though he saw its power and young Crane carried it back with him into obscurity.

During the next few months the manuscript was submitted to most of the magazines and publishers in New York but they all rejected it. Finally Crane, who was by nature a plunger, decided to publish it himself. He borrowed a thousand dollars, found an obscure firm of religious and medical printers who printed the book as a "job" but refused to take responsibility for it and refused their imprint to it, obscure though the firm was. Stephen Crane did not print his own name on the title page, not because he was ashamed of the book but because he had a romantic notion that it would become famous immediately and then he would step forward and say, "I'm the author!" It would be pleasant to relate that this dream came true, but unfortunately it did not; romantic dreams almost never come true in real life. The book never did become famous in its own right and even today few know much about it. In 1922 a single copy of the early paper-covered edition of "Maggie: A Girl of the Street" sold for $250 but that was because of Crane's subsequent fame won through other books and stories.

BOOKS FOR KINDLING

The regular book stores would not sell the book, only one of them, Brentano's, taking 12 copies, of which ten were returned to the author. The newsstands did not want to handle it and Crane was reduced to offering it for sale in poolrooms and cigar stores. Crane's shabby bedroom was piled high with the books and the chambermaid, with his consent, used them to light fires with.

Hamlin Garland, already famous because of his "Main-Travelled Roads," happened to read the paper-covered volume and he became enthusiastic about it. He sent for the boy and young Crane told Garland he would sell his whole literary future for $30, so discouraged was he because of the reception given his first book. Garland sent a copy to William Dean Howells, then the foremost literary critic in America, and the latter became just as enthusiastic as Garland. He said publicly that Stephen Crane could do things in literary that Mark Twain, then America's literary god, could not do.

But neither Garland nor Howells nor anyone else could persuade the publishers to bring out "Maggie" in a respectable form. It was too early for that kind of book and the publishers did not dare risk their good money on it until Crane became famous with other books. They were probably right from a business point of view and it shows how hard it is for a book to be published that comes ahead of its time.

H.S. Opera On Tonight At Chapel

"Nautical Knot" Is First School
Production Offered
This Year

The first high school production of this year, "The Nautical Knot," will be presented in Lawrence Memorial chapel Friday night to a large audience. The ticket sale for the light opera has been especially good. Dress rehearsal was held Thursday night.

The story concerns the sailors and villagers of Barnstapole. It is light and entertaining, with catchy tunes and pretty dances interspersed. Miss Marie McCloskey is in charge of the dances.

Miss Ruth McKennan of the high school dramatic department directed and staged the opera, while Carl McKee coached the glee clubs and orchestra. G. Bernard Behnken, director of the band, assisted with the direction.

An extremely large number of students will take part for the cast includes 14 persons, there is a chorus of 150 voices and an orchestra of about 15 pieces.

Schlitz Is New Chief Of K. P. Lodge

Fred Schlitz was elected chancellor for commander at the annual election of officers of the Knights of Pythias Thursday evening in Castle hall. Officers are: Theodore Brunka, vice commander; John Hestel, master-at-arms; Seymour Schneider, master of work; C. C. Nelson, keeper of records and seal; Frank Wright, master of finances; Clarence Manser, master of the exchequer; Walter Wetzel, inner guard; Harry Sylvester, outer guard. C. Snider was elected to membership on the board of trustees for three years, George H. Schmidt retiring.

R. N. A. Elects Mrs. Hogriever For Third Time

Mrs. Minnie Hogriever was elected oracle of the Royal Neighbors for the third successive year at the business meeting of the organization on Thursday evening in Odd Fellow hall. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Augusta Luaders, vice oracle; Mrs. Madeline Schneider, chancellor; Mrs. Gertrude Schaefer, recorder; Mrs. Dora Hager, receiver; Mrs. Clara Van Ooyen, marshal; Mrs. Ida Grabfelder, assistant marshal; Mrs. Helen Moder, manager for three years; Dr. H. B. Ellsworth and Dr. E. P. De Hearty, physicians; Miss Laura Luaders, musician; Mrs. Martha Glaser, inner sentinel; Mrs. Cora Boelsen, outer sentinel; Mrs. Ida Lohman, delegate to state convention; Mrs. Augusta Luaders, alternate; Mrs. Louisa Ackerman, flagbearer; and Mrs. Emma Mullen, staff captain. Arrangements were made for an open card party to be held Dec. 13. Five hundred, check, bridge, and schafkopf will be played. Mrs. George Hogriever is general chairman.

PARTIES

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rehfeldt, 970 Spring-st., were surprised Thursday evening by a number of friends. Five tables of five-hundred were in play during the evening and prizes were won by Mrs. Chester Helritz, Mrs. Edward Ward, Mrs. Albert Bauer and E. Miller.

Eight little boys surprised Howard Ellen Thursday at his home at 766 Second-ave in honor of his ninth birthday anniversary. Supper was served, and the boys went to the theater in the evening.

The Misses Helen and Jean Patterson entertained a number of friends Thursday afternoon at their home at 487 Pacific-st. in honor of their brother Walter of Seattle, who is visiting in Appleton. Prizes were won by Miss Agnes Van Ryzin and Frank Schneider.

Mrs. Otto Fredericks, 571 Locust-st. entertained the Club of Five Thursday afternoon at her home. Prizes at schafkopf were won by Mrs. Frank Jones and Mrs. Emma Benz. Mrs. Benz will be hostess to the club next Thursday at her home at 990 Drew-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tecklin, town of Center, Wednesday evening celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary in Tom Hove's hall in Mackville, with more than 100 persons taking part in the celebration. An Appleton orchestra furnished music for the dancing.

A dancing party for Knights of Pythias and their friends will be held Friday evening in Castle hall. Carl Elias, Charles Young, Robert Schmidt and Theodore Brunka are in charge of arrangements. Mellorimba orchestra of this club will furnish the music.

WOMANS CLUB INVITES NURSES TO MEETING

A get together meeting of all the nurses of Appleton and vicinity will be held between the hours of 7 to 10 o'clock Saturday evening, Dec. 6, in Appleton Women's club. Miss Lucy Helen Pearson will talk to the nurses and a program of entertainment will probably be planned.

If the nurses of this vicinity cooperate, the club believes, many problems of the city may be more successfully. Individual nurses now are helpless to cope with many of these. The party Saturday evening is designed particularly as an acquaintance gathering, in which the hobbies, points of view and abilities of the individual nurses may be aired for the general benefit of the group.

Two Churches Will Present Music Program

A union song service by the Epworth league of German Methodist Episcopal church and the Christian Endeavor society of First Reformed church will be held at 7:30 Sunday evening in German Methodist church. The Mandolin orchestra and choir will give several musical numbers and instrumental solos will be given by Wilma Werner, xylophone, and Edward Hoffman and Gilbert Menzner, flute. Songs will be sung by Dorothy Brandt, Mrs. Edward Nuss, Josephine Engel, Selma Merkel and Ruth Krueger, as well as by the male quartet. Helen Hartmann, Ruth Meyer and Howard Menzner will give readings.

Finance Report Is Presented To Club Board

A report on finance week was read by Mrs. L. J. Marshall, chairman, at a meeting of the board of directors of Appleton Women's club Thursday afternoon in the clubhouse. Although the women obtained more money than in other years, the percentage is lower, due to the increase in the budget. Ways and means of raising money were discussed. Mrs. Frank Schneider and Mrs. Richard Meyer, joint general chairman for the clavilux, which is to appear here Dec. 10 under auspices of the club, made a report and gave an explanation of the art. Mrs. L. C. Sleeper, in charge of the ticket sale, also reported.

Mrs. S. C. Shannon, president, was authorized to appoint a committee to work on a plan of community finance.

LODGE NEWS

Branch No. 6, Catholic Knights of Wisconsin will have a meeting at 7:30 Monday night in Catholic home. Officers are to be elected.

A social time to which wives and friends of members have been invited is to follow the regular meeting of Appleton Court, No. 132, Catholic Order of Foresters, next Tuesday evening. A special program has been arranged. A short business meeting is to precede the party.

The Junior Maccabees will hold a special business meeting at 1:30 Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. Karwelck, 1952 North Clark st. Members will be called for in cars and taken to Mrs. Karwelck's home, and if any junior has not yet been notified he is asked to call the junior commander, Mrs. Karwelck, at 2704 Plans for the Christmas program will be made at this meeting.

United Commercial Travelers will meet at 7:30 Saturday evening in Odd Fellow hall.

Knights of Columbus held a meeting Thursday evening in Catholic home at which about 80 members were present. Miss W. J. Fitzmaurice addressed the lodge on the Immaculate Conception.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The Missionary society of St. Paul Lutheran church is preparing a missionary box which will be sent to Arizona. The box will be packed Sunday. Old clothes, especially men's overcoats still are needed. They will be taken care of at the Aid Association for Lutherans office.

The annual meeting of Sacred Heart society which was scheduled for next Sunday has been postponed until the following Sunday on account of the church bazaar. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected at the meeting of Dec. 14.

Sacred Heart church will have a bazaar Sunday afternoon and Monday in Sacred Heart school. Mrs. Joseph Goetz, president of the Ladies Missionary society, is general chairman of the sale. Supper will be served Sunday night in the schoolhouse.

About 35 members of the Women's Union of St. John church attended the meeting Thursday afternoon in the church basement. Arrangements were made for the bazaar to be held Tuesday afternoon and evening, Dec. 9. Mrs. Peter Baat is general chairman.

Seventy members were present at the meeting of St. Paul Ladies Aid society Thursday afternoon in St. Paul school. The Rev. T. J. Sauer was in charge of the program and spoke to the society. Donations for missions were made at this meeting, which is the last before the holidays.

Two new members were taken into the Ladies Missionary society of German Methodist Episcopal church at the meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. Becker, 771 Spring-st. A bazaar and rummage sale was planned for Wednesday morning, Dec. 10, in the Brandt showrooms. The sale will begin at 9:30.

Clavilux Is Idle Every Other Day

Appleton One of Few Smaller Cities to Witness Use of Instrument

Appleton is one of the very first of the smaller cities to have the opportunity to see Clavilux, the wonderful new color organ invention by Thomas Wilfred. He will show what he can do with this new art of light when he appears at Lawrence Memorial chapel Dec. 10.

The instrument he brings here is his latest design, carefully constructed by hand at the cost of $16,000 in the inventor's laboratory, workshop and studio at Huntington, N. Y. So delicately adjusted and sensitive is its mechanism that the artist will not give his exhibition on two successive evenings as he requires an interval to readjust and "tune" the clavilux.

The enjoyment of this eighth of fine arts—music, color—is not confined to a single group of painters or musicians. It captivates and holds the interest of many thousands wherever it is shown. In the big cities, which heretofore have had the exclusive privilege of seeing clavilux mechanics, electricians, engineers, actors and producers, physicians and surgeons, musicians, artists and people from all walks of life go in large numbers to see this new invention.

Members of the executive board of the club, assisted by a committee, are in charge of the ticket sale. Much interest is shown and the club hopes that every seat in the house will be taken next Wednesday evening. The scene is easily seen from every part of the house and there is no focus to consider in choosing a seat. A feature of the program will be a short talk by Mr. Wilfred. A special price is given to students.

AUXILIARY WILL HELP LEGION PROMOTE DANCE

An interesting program of music and speeches was presented at the meeting of the American Legion auxiliary Thursday afternoon in Armory. The important feature of the program was the proposition of cooperation with the American legion in selling tickets for the welfare dance. Talks on the subject were given by C. A. Sparling and T. Falholt. Definite plans for helping the legion in this work will be made in the near future. Reports of the committees were made. After the business Mrs. Fred Bendt sang two solos.

Mrs. E. C. Miller, state chairman of the membership committee, has been invited to be a guest of the auxiliary at the next meeting on Jan. 8.

AUXILIARY OF U. C. T. PLANNING BOX SOCIAL

United Commercial Travelers auxiliary will give a box social following the business meeting at 7:30 Saturday evening in Odd Fellow hall. The party will be a get-together social, to which the United Commercial Travelers

Gain Beauty

And keep it—as I did.
By Edna Wallace Hopper

As a girl, I multiplied my beauty until it brought me world-wide fame. After 40 years in a stage career, I have kept that beauty. To the thousands who see me daily I look like a girl of 19.

That is due to cultivation and to scientific care. I have spent years and fortunes to secure the utmost science offers.

Now I have had those helps combined so a dozen are applied at once. And I am placing them at every woman's call.

One is a super cream. It is supplied by all druggists and toilet counters as Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream. It is far more than a cream. It contains products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that modern experts know to foster, soften, feed and protect the skin. All in one application. I cannot believe that there exists another beauty help to compare.

My Youth Cream comes in two types—cold cream and vanishing. They contain the same important ingredients. I use the cold cream as a night cream, the vanishing in the day. Never is my face one hour without it. The result is a complexion for 40 years admired.

I wish I knew how to induce all girls and women to adopt this super-cream. It means so much to them. I will gladly send you some to try if you will mail this coupon. Please do that if you wish to know how much a cream can do.

Synod Leader Gives Talk To Church Women

Mrs. Otto Tilly and Mrs. George Wieso were hostesses at the meeting of the Ladies Missionary society of Trinity English Lutheran church Thursday afternoon in the parsonage.

The president of the English synod of the Northwest, Dr. G. Keller Rubrecht of Minneapolis, spoke to the society about the splendid work the organization was doing, and the adequate tools, church and means they had to work with. He urged them to make a special effort to live up to the opportunity given them.

The date for the next meeting was set for Jan. 8. Mrs. Gustave Tesch and Mrs. Albert C. Roehl will be hostesses.

Honor Memory Of Officer Of W.C.T.U.

Twenty-two members of the Women's Christian Temperance union met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Elmerbert, 553 Mendota. An impressive memorial service was held in honor of Miss Ada Kethroe, one of the union members for many years. Many tributes were given Miss Kethroe's memory, and to her work in the organization. She was treasurer of the local union for 23 years, and was superintendent of temperance instruction for several years, as well as state superintendent.

A resolution was passed by the union, offering the sympathy of every member to Miss Kethroe's family, and tendering consolation to the relatives and friends.

A partial report of the national convention held recently in Chicago was read at the meeting.

RESUME DEGREE WORK IN DE MOLAY DEC. 11

Final plans for the opening dance of the John F. Rose chapter, Order of DeMolay, were made at a special meeting of the chapter, Thursday evening in Masonic temple. The dance will be held Saturday night. Mrs. Lewis is in charge of the arrangements. The initiatory degree was practiced and it was decided to confer degrees on a class of candidates at the next regular meeting on Thursday Dec. 11.

ers is invited after the business meeting. Coffee will be served in the hall and lunches will be furnished by the ladies of the auxiliary. Bridge will be played.

Initiation of several candidates will be the business of the meeting preceding the social.

INSTALL TIMMEL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Pastor Leaves New London to Take Up Three Outlying
Lutheran Churches

New London—The Rev. Kurt Timmel, assistant pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church of this city, and who was released Sunday by the congregation in order to become pastor of the two Lutheran churches of Maple Creek and the Grace Lutheran church of Sugar Bush, will be installed in his new church as pastor next Sunday, Dec. 7.

The Rev. Timmel will fill the vacancy made by resignation of the Rev. Theophil Brenner at Maple Creek, and will also become pastor of Grace Lutheran church at Sugar Bush, which was formerly connected with the Emmanuel Lutheran church of New London. The Rev. Mr. Brenner has accepted a call to Freedom. This gives the Rev. Mr. Timmel the pastorate of three churches, Emmanuel Lutheran at Maple Creek, and Grace Lutheran church at Sugar Bush.

The Rev. Mr. Timmel is a graduate of Northwestern college at Watertown, and the Lutheran theological seminary at Wauwatosa. He came to New London immediately after having been ordained to the ministry, about 15 months ago.

The Rev. Mr. Timmel was released from the assistant pastorate of Emmanuel Lutheran church of this city last Sunday afternoon, Nov. 30 at a meeting of the congregation. He will preach his farewell sermon in that church next Sunday morning, Dec. 7, and will be installed at 1 o'clock in Christ Lutheran church of Maple Creek.

He will take up his residence at the Maple Creek parsonage, recently vacated by the Rev. Mr. Brenner, next week.

HERRES IS FREED OF LIQUOR CHARGE

Jury of Six Men Gives Him Verdict of Acquittal—Lacked Evidence

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—John Herres, Jr. was acquitted on a charge of selling liquor to Dan McFaul of this city, in a trial in New London city hall Thursday.

McFaul was arrested about a week ago on a charge of being intoxicated and was freed after his hearing when he told that he had purchased moonshine in the Herres saloon on South Pearl-st.

Mr. Herres was arrested and a trial set for last Monday, Dec. 1. However, due to the absence of a witness, the trial was postponed until Thursday morning. After being called in the morning, the trial was recessed until 1:15 Thursday afternoon and at the afternoon session, a jury composed of six local men, William Oestrich, William Garot, Richard Schuch, Gordon Wolkstein, Otto Fehrmann and John Rickaby acquitted Herres, due to insufficient evidence.

8-POUND TROUT WINS HIM PRIZE

New London—Roy Runnels of this city was the winner of second prize in last season's German brown trout contest carried on by Field and Stream magazine, a monthly publication, and of much interest to sportsmen.

Mr. Runnels has just received a letter from the editor of Field and Stream informing him of his good luck and complimenting him on his splendid catch of a German brown trout weighing eight pounds, an unusually large fish.

The contest opened with the first day of the trout season in 1924, and ended on last day, Aug. 30, 1924.

While Mr. Runnels was fishing near Wild Rose on Aug. 30, the last day of the season, he "got a raise" out of a fish, he says, "pulled like a whale." After a fight he landed him and discovered him to be a big German brown trout, which later tipped the scales at exactly eight pounds.

This is exceptionally large for trout, and especially for those caught in this locality.

Mr. Runnels then had a picture taken of himself and his prize, and sent it to Field and Stream, to be entered in the trout contest. His prize amounts to a large amount of fishing tackle, valued at nearly $50.

ASKS STUDENT HELP ON ALUMNI DIRECTORY

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—M. I. Hiltterbrick, instructor in sciences in New London high school, gave a report to the student body Thursday morning concerning the 1925 Classmate, school annual.

Mr. Hiltterbrick's talk centered chiefly upon the new feature of the book this year, its alumni directory. This directory is to give all the names, locations, and present occupations of all graduates of the local high school, and means a tremendous amount of work in order to compose it. Mr. Hiltterbrick sent out an appeal to all of the students to get busy and "dig up" material and information which would prove useful in this directory. An appeal will also be issued in the near future for a large collection of snapshots which will be handed in by the students, and printed in the annual.

Mr. Hiltterbrick also told of the difference between the new high school paper, Monday Morning News, and the Classmate, saying that several of the students had gotten the wrong impression of the object of these two publications. The purpose of the Monday Morning News is to serve as a school newspaper, giving all of the news, events and occurrences of the school, while the chief object of the annual is to act as a review of all the year's activities and programs, and to serve as a memorial of that particular school year.

This year's Class mate will contain news, events and occurrences of the school, while the chief object of the annual is to act as a review of all the year's activities and programs, and to serve as a memorial of that particular school year.

Advertising, although it was previously planned to leave the advertising out. However, several of the local business men have expressed their desire to advertise in the book and all those desiring advertising will be accommodated.

CARE IS URGED IN ADDRESSING MAIL

Postmaster Mill Warns Patrons to Avoid Christmas Disappointments

Kaukauna—As the Christmas season approaches the volume of mail being received at the local postoffice increases each day. The office force is attempting to keep caught up by handling all parcels and letters as quickly as possible.

Persons who are mailing out letters or parcels have been asked by Postmaster A. J. Mill to be careful regarding the location of their return cards. In spite of all that has been said on the subject many people insist on writing their names and address on the back of the envelope instead of in the upper left hand corner where it belongs.

In case of a mixup in the mail much time would be lost if most of the letters had the return cards on the back. Unless the mail clerk is aware that such is sometimes the case, the card on the back may go unnoted and the lost letter sent to the dead letter office.

When addressing parcels, write the name of the receiver in large letters only once, says Mr. Mill. The return card should be written in smaller letters above and to the left of the mailing address. Wherever possible light colored paper should be used and all writing should be done in ink. Pencil marks on brown paper are not very legible and are easily rubbed off.

RUNTES KNOCKED FROM LEAGUE LEAD

Kaukauna—In one of the best matches rolled thus far in the city bowling league Bayoregon's Womersley topped two games from the league leading Runte team Wednesday evening. The butchers toppled the maples for a count of 2,635 while the Runte men were right on their heels with 2,645 pins. The first game went to the Womersley by a margin of one pin, 900 to 895. They won the second also, 900 to 812. The Runte quint came back in the last and topped 908 to 889. Only one man went below the 500 average and one garnered a total of 606 pins. The latter was Amay Bayoregon who hit the pins for counts of 203, 224, and 179. Scores: Bayoregon's Womersley Won 2 Lost 0. M. Bayoregon 157, 171, 171, 171, 171; VanEls 171, 152, 155, 150; Simpson 163, 157, 153, 153; F. Henz 173, 155, 171, 155; A. Bayoregon 203, 224, 179, 606; total 2,635.

H. T. RUNTE CO. Won 1 Lost 2. C. Runte 189, 162, 176, 526; Kuchel 180, 144, 199, 543; O. Runte 176, 174, 190, 560; H. T. Runte 141, 167, 159, 459; H. Minkeberg 260, 148, 204, 612; total 2,645.

Piles

Can't Be Cured from the Outside
External treatments seldom cure Piles.

Nor do surgical operations. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1,000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Schlintz Bros., who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer. adv.

Plain Talk But True

To the Women of Appleton, we wish to say that we do not buy any garments for sale purposes.

All of our Dresses and Coats are made to our order, and when we advertise a special sale, we mean a selling of our regular merchandise, — merchandise made to our order, at cost or below cost.

For Example---

In Thursday's Post-Crescent we advertised dresses, below cost and we feel sure that if the women of Appleton, could only see this merchandise, and let us prove to them that we are selling them so ridiculously low priced, they would storm our doors for a choice.

All of these Dresses are extraordinary values, there is a large assortment of them especially for larger women.

Those who have not visited our store we wish to extend a personal invitation to come in and see this splendid assortment of Dresses.

Mr. Fleischner's 20 years of experience buying and selling "Ready-to-Wear" gives him a knowledge of all of the best Eastern manufacturers and importers of Dresses and Coats. And this knowledge and experience, is now serving over 350 customers who we have had the pleasure of satisfying during the past two months.

We will gladly inform you about the makers of any Dress or Coat in our stock. And we will deem it a pleasure to give you advance information as to what the coming season's styles will be.

We never buy merchandise from the racks of a manufacturer. This is always cheap merchandise, intended especially for sales.

But We Are Now Selling the Finest of Merchandise at these Low Prices.

We will show you the coming season's imports from DuRay, McCarra, Lelong and reproductions from Pollyanna.

FLOW OF TRAFFIC FIXES COLLEGE-AVE PROPERTY VALUES

Best Store Locations Now
Worth $2,000 Front Foot,
Steinberg Says

Accessibility, flow of traffic, supply and demand, the right side of the street and location as compared to other stores are the five points which entirely determine the value of downtown property, according to Daniel P. Steinberg, local realtor, who spoke at the meeting of Appleton Advertising club Thursday noon at Hotel Northern. His subject was The Value of Downtown Property.

Mr. Steinberg said that College-ave was the best business street in Appleton because of its width. If Oneida-st were to be widened, the mere contemplation of the plan would improve business on that street 25 per cent and when it was completed business would be improved another 10 per cent.

Business is spoiled on practically every street in the city because of the congestion, said the speaker. There is an unusual opportunity for downtown business development because of the large flow of traffic on some of the streets. State-st carries Fifth ward traffic. Superior-st. Fifth and Sixth ward traffic. Oneida-st tourist traffic and Dick-st the people passing through City park. This flow of traffic should be used for the improvement of business, Mr. Steinberg said.

GET BIG PRICE
Because of the great demand for buildings on College-ave, people who have paid little are able to sell their property for a large price. The property between the First National bank and Volgt drug store is the most desirable in Appleton or is what is known as 100 per cent property. Another valuable section is between Pettibone's and Geenen's. The highest priced section is between the Kiege and Woolworth stores. Property in that section is worth $2,000 a front foot plus improvements. Location is a very important factor in determining value of property.

Surveys teach real estate men to look out for foolish legislation, Mr. Steinberg said. A $5,000 exemption on homesteads increases the value of the homesteads, but at the same time raises the tax rates. The National Association of Real Estate Brokers is fighting hard to abolish all tax exempt securities in order to stabilize real estate and investments. It is only fair to treat a mortgage the same as a railroad or municipal bond which go free, the realtor remarked.

CORNERS BEST
The conveniences of a building fix and determine rentals. One may be highly improved, another only four walls. Corner locations are worth 20 to 30 per cent more than others because of the double traffic, more window space and better advertising facilities.

Supply and demand is the prime factor in determining value of property. Property in business sections can increase $12,000 dollars or more in value in less than two years in this way. No improvements need be made but if the property is needed it immediately jumps in price. Motion is another factor. As the building passes from hand to hand it increases in value without improving as each owner pays the extra price for the use of the property.

Figures on the average rental in per cent of the different types of business according to the volume of business done as given by a recent survey of the National Association of Real Estate Brokers, of which Mr. Steinberg is a member, are as follows. Automobile dealers 2 per cent, department stores 3 per cent, men's wear, furniture clothing and 5 and 10 cent stores 5 per cent, shoe stores 7 per cent, hardware stores 7 to 9 per cent, men's hats and cigar stores 8 per cent, women's wear stores high class restaurants and theatres and drug stores 8 to 10 per cent, automobile accessories 10 per cent, milliners and florists 1 to 15 per cent, jewelers 15 to 20 per cent.

Mr. Steinberg concluded his talk with the assurance that real estate well located and well bought is the safest investment on earth.

Rain Saves City From Sleet Toll

Appleton was given a slight reminder Friday of the memorable sleet storm of Feb. 22, 1922, when communication was shut off with the world by a wall of ice.

Fear of a repetition of those events did not take root, however, for the mixture of snow, sleet and rain that fell was not of the nature to cause the damage that was felt two years ago when streets were barricaded by fallen trees, telephone wires were grounded and train service was stopped.

Nevertheless walking was hazardous and driving of automobiles without chains was exceedingly precarious.

Street cars and interurban cars were slowed down somewhat early in the morning Friday by the ice encrusted trolley wires. Skidding cars were seen at many of the street corners, and at the intersection of Story and Franklinists an automobile skidded about in such a manner as to straddle a catch basin.

Anxiety over the reports of severe sleet, snow and rain storms all over the country Friday diminished here when the sleet turned into rain shortly after noon.

WISCONSIN WANTS MICHIGAN SQUAD FOR HOMECOMING

Badgers May Invite Chicago to Camp Randall if Wolverines Refuse

By Associated Press

Madison—As the annual Big Ten conference meet opens at Chicago Friday, Wisconsin sport followers are casting expressions on the probable outcome as far as the Badger school is concerned. Of major importance is the arrangement of the 1925 football schedule.

If plans of Wisconsin representatives are successful, Michigan would come to Madison next fall for the homecoming card. This would be supplemented by a game with either Northwestern or Purdue, with perhaps an inter-sectional game on the local gridiron. Chicago, Minnesota and Iowa will be met on foreign fields.

However, should Michigan decline to come to Madison for another game next year and sever relations with Wisconsin in football, sources close to the athletic situation here say that Coach Alonzo Stagg of Chicago probably will yield to bringing a game to Camp Randall. This would prove a big attraction, sportsmen say, since the game played at the Midway has always been a closely contested and watched affair. Ohio State has been suggested for the Badger schedule but it is said to be unlikely that the Ohio officials would approve a game in Madison.

FIVE LETTERMEN GIVE EAST GREEN BAY HIGH HOPES

Crimson Cagers Will Play Initial Game Dec. 12 with Shawano

Green Bay — With this year's football down in history and East High sitting on the top of the heap, Coach Wiley, the Crimson mentor has made his annual call for basketball material. About 25 ball tossers reported for practice Monday in the Hilltoppers new gymnasium. Coach Wiley stated that he expected to have about fifty out for basketball before this weekend.

The Hilltoppers are not lacking veteran material this year for Coach Wiley has 5 of his 5 lettermen back on the squad who performed brilliantly for the Crimson team last year. With O'Brien, McGuire, Burke, Capt. Althouse and Nauman to start out with and a draft of promising recruits, East High should be well represented on the basketball court.

The Hilltoppers have an eleven game schedule which calls for them to meet the strongest caging quintets in the state. The Crimson team will play their initial game December 12 in Green Bay when they will face the strong Shawano cagers.

The Hilltoppers' schedule:

Dec. 12—Shawano at Green Bay
Dec. 19—West High at West High
Jan. 2—East vs Alumni

Huddle System Favors Light Squad, Is Claim

Platteville—Abolition of the "huddle system" of football tactics would seriously handicap light elevens which have to depend on versatility in playing against heavier opponents, in the opinion of Director of Athletics, George R. Dodson, at the Wisconsin Mining school here.

Some sport writers, according to the mentor, complain that the "huddle system" slows down the game and does not permit of enough action. Dodson, however, believes that the public is better satisfied with the smart, varied play of the modern game than it would be with the hurry up, slam-bang game of a few years ago.

"In my mind there is no question but that the privilege of bunching and constituting helps advance the modern game with its innumerable changes of style of attack," says Dodson.

In regard to the "huddle system," Dodson has this to say:

"The public is giving credit to the introduction of the forward pass and the high development of the modern game of football. However, it should not overlook the fact that football running at any opportunity time. The opponent of this versatile attack requires very careful observation of the opponent defense by the man calling the signals, and can best be accomplished by using bunched signals or the so-called 'huddle system'."

URG E $850,000 FOR WAR ON CATTLE T. B.

By Associated Press

Madison—An appropriation of $850,000, each year for the next five years for tuberculosis eradication among cattle herds in Wisconsin will be recommended to the state legislature by the state board of public affairs, it was voted in executive session Thursday during consideration of departmental budgets. The action was taken on the agricultural department budget, on recommendation of J. D. Jones Jr., state commissioner.

This is said to be the largest eradication program ever undertaken by the state. It will enable the anti-tuberculosis program to be carried out practically every county in the state, officials say. A similar appropriation will be obtained from the federal government, it is believed.

M'TIGUE WILL REMAIN IDLE UNTIL WALKER GO

New York—Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, will engage in no bouts prior to his match with Mike Walker, welterweight titleholder at Newark on Jan. 7. This was announced Thursday by Paddy Mullins, McTigue's manager, as a result of reports that McTigue had signed for two matches before the Walker fight.

Mullins admitted he had offers for matches on McTigue's behalf with Young Marullo at New Orleans and Jack Middleton at Miami Fla., but declared he had not accepted either one.

WINDOW ENVELOPES CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Postal Department Requests Strict Adherence to Post-office Rules

The use of window envelopes in the local mails has become so general that it constitutes a real problem in the Appleton postoffice. As long as mailers abide by the rulings of the department in the use of window envelopes, no complaint is made, but a divergence from these rules is said to cause the clerks an unusual amount of work that retards the distribution and delivery of mails.

Under the rules only white paper must be enclosed in window envelopes but an exception has usually been made in the case of firms who insist they need different colored stationery to distinguish departments. In such cases firms are asked to use only the lightest shades possible. An address on dark blue stationery can hardly be seen through the glazed paper opening, especially at night when the gloss of the envelope window strongly reflects the light of electric lamps. The postal department will allow firms to use up the

400 CHILDREN IN INDIA MADE HAPPY BY APPLETON

Away on the other side of the earth in Kodoli, Kolhapur, Southern India, there will be four hundred happy children Christmas morning as a result of the kindness of the people of Appleton. Three boxes of clothes, toys, and books donated by the citizens of Appleton and sent through the Presbyterian church to the American Mission school in Kodoli, has arrived there, according to word received by Robert H. Hannum.

The boxes contained mostly clothing, this being the greatest need of the children. There are four hundred children in the school, all dependent on charity. Each child will receive a gift—his only reminder of Christmas—for they are the only Christians, and the Mission school is the only school in the territory.

The boxes were shipped early in October, for it is a month's journey to Kodoli, and the clothes must all be fitted before Christmas.

An English inventor has devised a portable camera, weighing only 36 pounds, that will detect hidden treasure or smuggled goods in brick walls or inside trunks.

ACCIDENTS KILL MORE THAN WARS. "Y" CLUB HEARS

M. G. Hoyman and Joseph Doerfler Give Safety Talks at Forum

An unusually large audience heard M. G. Hoyman, safety director of Kimberly-Clark Co., talk on Safety First and Last at a meeting of the Industrial Forum Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Employees were present from firms of Kimberly-Clark, and Menasha as well as Appleton. Thirty Pulp and Paper Co. had the largest delegation.

The cause of practically all of the accidents of this country is the lack of personal responsibility among its people. Mr. Hoyman said. During 1923 there were 7,000 to 8,000 deaths as compared with 50,000 during the World War. Of these deaths, 14,000 were caused by automobile accidents and the rest by other causes. In New York, for example, there were 14,000 deaths in 1923. The automobile has been the cause of more deaths than the "cock and ball" game. Deaths caused by this have been 15,000. Two of every three deaths occur outside of industries according to Mr. Hoyman.

Accidents also are caused by lack of caution and contempt for hazards. People say, "This will never happen to me" when they should be saying, "This is apt to happen to me if I don't take care." It is a matter for education. People are creatures of habit and most of them have acquired the habit of carelessness. Safety should be taught in all schools as is now being done in those in St. Louis.

Mr. Hoyman said.

Be careful for the sake of those at home. Mr. Hoyman said. A spender would change his ways if he would think it might have been his child being crushed on the street. Safety work extends as far as the laws of Babylon and Deuteronomy law out people never can get enough of it.

Joseph Doerfler spoke briefly on the hazards of electricity. Although it reduces work it has many hazards. He said. Different substances offer different amounts of resistance. The human body is a conductor and when it perspires it is an especially good conductor. Do not touch any electrical apparatus or wire with the hands use wood or clothing instead. Mr. Doerfler warned.

Mr. Doerfler explained the effects of electrical shocks of various voltages and how the victim should be treated. A team of six men from Kimberly-Clark mill one of the foremost mills in the country in this work demonstrated methods of resuscitation after drowning or strangling by gas or electric shock.

"UNGUARDED WOMEN" WITH TOWTREFUL CAST, COMING

Readers of the Saturday Evening Post will recall that a few months ago there appeared in that publication a most unusual story by Lucy Stone Terrill, entitled "Face." The original of its plot occasioned considerable comment and commendation. Paramount recognized it as exceptional screen material and bought the motion picture rights.

"Unguarded Women," which is scheduled to open at Fischer's theatre next Sunday for one day only is an adaptation of that story—the history of how a man of honor brings back to social es-see a girl whose love of glory makes her a society outcast. It is intensely dramatic full of suspense with a strong and fine love interest and a happy climax.

It was evidently the aim of the producers to leave no stone unturned, or rather, to leave no actor out of the cast who could successfully contribute to the logical interpretation of the difficult roles the plot calls for. The result is that we have an array of talent that should satisfy the most fastidious. Bebe Daniels, Richard Dix and Mary Astor are featured at the head of a superb cast that includes Walter McGrath, Frank Losee, Harry Mearns, Joe King, Helen Lindroth and Donald Hall, all of them exceptionally fitted by training and temperament for their respective characterizations.

To further insure a high-grade production Alan Crossland was entrusted with the responsibility of directing the picture. Since Mr. Crossland has to his credit such screen successes as "Enemies of Women," "Under the Red Robe," "Three Weeks," etc., it is safe to predict that no one will find fault with the settings, costumes and back

APPLETON YOUTH SEEN IN WEST POINT MOVIE

Appleton people recognized familiar faces in many of the scenes of Classmates, a picture of life at West Point featuring Richard Barthelmess which was shown at the Elks theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. One of the cadets frequently recognized was Donald Kurz, son of W. D. Kurz, 820 Morrison-st. Kurz graduated from Appleton high school in 1921 and attended Lawrence college for two years. He received an appointment to West Point last year.

Another familiar face was that of Eddie Johnson of Milwaukee, former Lawrence college football star, who is a first classman. Johnson starred for Lawrence at quarterback during his two years here and was member of Beta Sigma Phi fraternity. He has taken part in most of Army's games since then.

DR. BABCOCK TALKS AT DENTAL MEETING

Dr. F. C. Babcock of Appleton, a member of the state board of dental examiners, will be one of the speakers at the December meeting of the Oshkosh Dental society which will be held on Saturday in the Athearn hotel in Oshkosh.

Invitations have been sent to dentists of neighboring cities and several Appleton men expect to attend the meeting.

Dr. Babcock will talk on Cooperation Among Dentists. Other speakers will be D. T. A. Hardgrove of Fond du Lac, past president of the state dental society, who will give a report of the last national dental meeting at Dallas, Tex., in November and Dr. J. M. Donovan of Neenah, president of the State Dental society.

The program will be preceded by a turkey dinner at 8 o'clock in the French room of the Athearn hotel. Bowling alleys of the Elk club have been engaged for the dentists from 3 to 6 o'clock and each city in the valley will be represented by a team. Dr. J. R. Mortell of Oshkosh is in charge of the program.

MEN WILL GO BACK TO KID DAYS WHILE IN SCOUT TRAINING

Kelcher Arranges for Fascinating Leaders Course While in Chicago

Taking men back to boyhood will be the method used in a course in "boyology" which P. O. Kelcher, executive of Valley council, Boy Scouts of America, has begun arranging as a result of his conference in Chicago Wednesday with national scout leaders.

While scouting for boy scout leaders probably will take place early in February, devoting one week to the course. There will be evening meetings commencing on a Monday and including Friday, and sessions both afternoon and evening on Tuesday. Pupils of churches will be occupied Sunday morning by scout leaders and a big gathering will be held that afternoon.

UTILIZE BUREAU

These arrangements were made by Mr. Kelcher after the valley council authorized a training course. Considerable help will be given and expense saved by utilizing the Boys Life bureau of the Knights of Columbus, which offers services of its experts gratis where local councils make such a request.

Mr. Kelcher conferred with Dr. George J. Fischer of the national scout headquarters, and James Freeman, assistant national field director, while in Chicago. They told him of the excellent results obtained elsewhere in these training courses. The men were in Chicago because of a boys' work conference of Rotary International attended by about 400 men. The Appleton executive also attended some of these meetings while there.

EXPERT COMING EARLIER

It is possible that Brother Barnabek, S. O. C., executive secretary of Boys Life bureau, Knights of Columbus, may be induced to come here in January to work up interest in the boyology school. He is to assist at that time in courses in Chicago and Waukegan and offered to spend a day here.

The training institute will not be a lecture course, as usually is supposed. There will be two talks on organization and methods but most of the time will be taken up with "learning by doing," which is the slogan of the movement. Men who come to meeting will be instructed to wear their old clothes so they can roll around on the floor if necessary. They will be taught to do things to boy scouts as they are supposed to learn, and will play scout games. They have several days of frolic as a result and at the same time learn to teach the boys. Attendance at the school usually doubles before the week is over. Some of the outstanding boy scout and boys' work leaders will be the instructors.

ON THE SCREEN

"BREAKING IN" IS A LAUGH RIOT

Bennie Leonard is as competent an actor as he is a fighter, if "Breaking In," the first of the "Flying Flamingo" series of eight pictures which comes to the New Bijou today and Saturday is a criterion. "Breaking In" not only reveals Bennie as an actor of merit but shows that he is quite as good on the screen as in the prize ring.

Incidentally "Breaking In" is a laugh riot. The story, written by Sam Hollman, of Saturday Evening Post fame, is one of those rare classics of the silver sheet which in the beginning makes you chuckle, in the middle makes you laugh and at the finish makes you roar. We haven't laughed so heartily since we put a tack on the teacher's seat in school twenty years ago.

The cast supporting Leonard works well. Tammany Young, and Billie Mitchell make a rip-roaring pair of comedians. Diana Allen, who has starred in many films, is her own beautiful self.

Don't miss "Breaking In." It is high class entertainment.

REAL PLAY IS NOW SCREENED AT ELITE

A very entertaining story, told in convincing and artistic manner, was unfolded on the screen yesterday in the Elite theatre, when "K—The Unknown," Universal-Jewel, sent Virginia Valli, was given its initial performance.

The pictureplay was adapted from the famous novel by Mary Roberts Rinehart, "K," which not only was read by many thousands of persons, but which, according to all evidence, is justly entitled to that well-known characterization, "the human element." And if this characterization is true of the story, it is true of the screen version. It can be truly said for the picture that it follows the story closely, and accordingly, it appears to the writer of this review that the characterization in both cases is a correct one.

Virginia Valli, cast in the part of Sidney Pigo, beautiful young woman whose life has been passed in a small town where she has become a social favorite of the younger set. The granddaddy she portrays just one emerging from childhood through realization of her growing maturity to one who, apparently, has tasted of the extreme bitterness of disillusionment, are convincingly done.

The part of "K," silent and mysterious stranger whose coming to the little town presages so much of vital import to the others in the story, is finely handled by Percy Marmont. Margarita Fischer as Clara, John Harrison as the doctor, and the voice in love with Dr. Marmont, portrayed by John Roche, and Maurice Ryan, Francis Penney, are convincing.

Cupid Falls Behind Last Year's Mark

Dan Cupid has just one more month left in which to catch up with last year's enrollment in the school for matrimony. Thus far his showing has been far below normal and is made to look even worse because this is leap year. Even last year's total of 247 marriage licenses issued from the county clerk's office was 45 short of the record of 1922, which was considered the county's banner year for matrimonial ventures. On Dec. 1 of this year the total was 814 as compared with 866 on the same day in 1923. The 36 licenses issued in November were 14 less than were issued in November, 1923. December, the month of chills, was the second poorest month of all last year for Cupid's business.

FINISH SAWMILL AT INTERLAKE MILL

The new sawmill built at the Appleton mill of the Interlake division of the consolidated Pulp and Paper company the past summer was completed about two weeks ago and is now in operation. The saw mill replaces an old and smaller building and increases the capacity. It is a frame structure 60 by 80 feet in size and is located at the lower end of the wood room. One new steam feed cutoff saw was installed in the saw mill, but the rest of the machinery was transferred from the old mill.

The Interlake mill has been operating quite steadily all year and the production is about normal. There has been but little turnover in the labor employed since most of the men at their jobs the year round.

BRIDGE OPENED 1,224 TIMES TO LET BOATS PASS

Kimberly bridge was opened 1,224 times from April 13 to Nov. 30 for passage of boats, according to N. Nooyen and J. Poca, bridge tenders. Almost one half of the boats were coal barges, 547 of these carriers passing through during that period. These barges contained from 280 to 300 tons of coal each. About 187 loads of coal were landed at Kimberly-Clark Co. mill. More large launches and pleasure boats than ever before passed under the bridge this year. This was largely due to the international regatta and races at Oshkosh on July 4, Mr. Nooyen said.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white, light even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up; is simple, clean and safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, B. M. Johnson, 609 W. Lake-St. Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give an $1000 to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

BRIDGE APPROACH WILL BE FINISHED IN FEW DAYS

Work on paving the short portion of Cherry-st from Second-st to the north abutment of the Cherry-st bridge is being pushed. The work is being done by the Wausau Iron Works, bridge contractors, under the direction of the board of public works and W. H. Klyce, resident engineer of Harrington, Howard & Asha. Instead of a dirt filling in the gap between the street surface to the abutment a steel understructure is being built in order to prevent sagging which has been the chief fault at the approaches of other Appleton bridges.

AWARD PATENT ON RELIEN SNOWPLOW

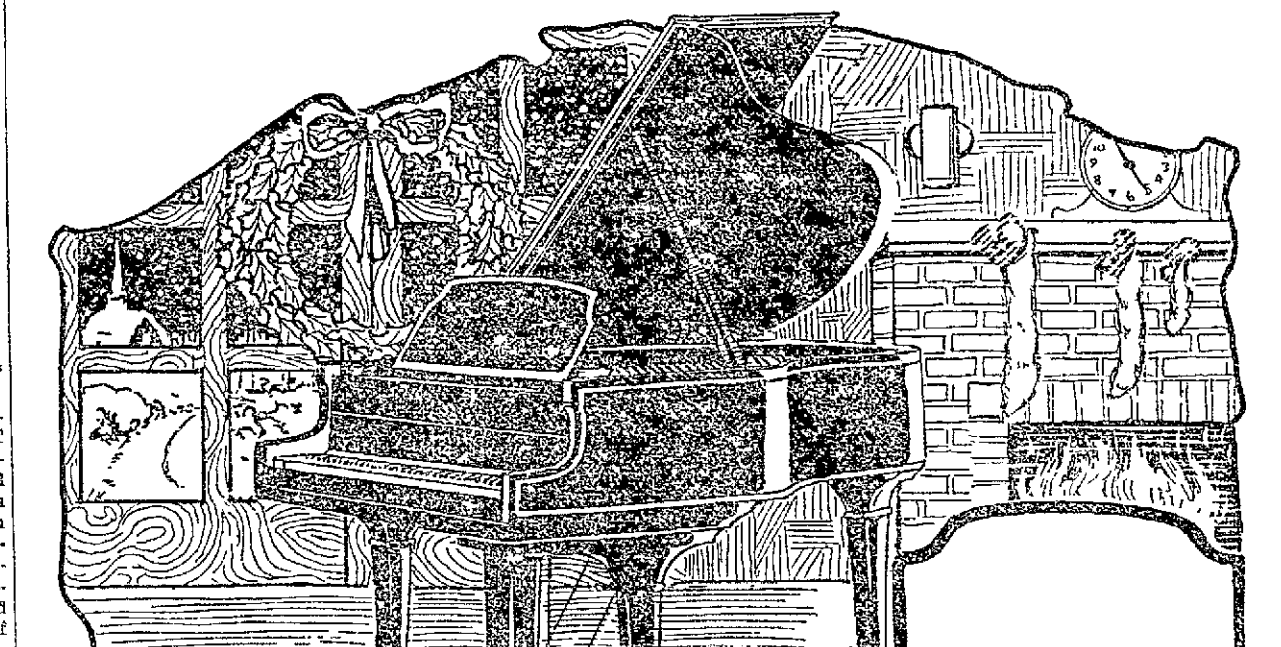

Henry Relien, former town supervisor of Greenville, has been informed by Edwin Wheeler & Woodard, Milwaukee patent attorneys, that he has been granted a patent by the United States government on his snow plow invention.

The plow was experimented with last winter on roads of this county and other parts of the state. It was used out on the ice bound Appleton-Menasha road and on the Hortonville-

New London rd., Appleton city council also gave it a test.

It is designed to be attached to a large tractor or a weighted truck. It operates on casters and can be tilted at any degree as well as spread out to any width. Mr. Relien has made several improvements on the plow since last winter. It is equipped with big wings to push away the snow when it is very deep. Hinges have been substituted for U-bolts for more efficient operation of the tilting wedge, and some of the weaker parts have been strengthened.

Packard

The Name of a Fine Piano

The Gift of the Ages

For Cottage or Palace

IN MANY OF THE FINEST HOMES AND residences, as well as the humbler dwellings of thousands who love and appreciate the better things of life—a Packard Piano will, this Christmas, bring more joy, happiness and comfort to every member of the family than all the other Christmas gifts combined. And there is one outstanding reason why this is so.

The superiority of the Packard is not alone due to the choicest materials, the faithful reproduction of the original design, or the wonderful finish—but to the ability of the greatest craftsmen in the piano industry to transmit in reality the very "Soul of Music" into the otherwise inanimate parts of the piano.

It is the rare, distinctive tone, resonant and inspiring, the faithful true tone that so beautifully sustains the human voice, that makes the Packard today the most wonderful piano ever made. Come in to see, hear and play it.

In the Packard you get highest quality at its lowest Price

NEW STATE BODY NAMES SECRETARY

Thomas Campton of Milwaukee, has been appointed managing secretary of the Greater Wisconsin association with offices in Milwaukee, according to word received by the chamber of commerce here. The association was organized in Appleton at a statewide meeting last summer.

Mr. Campton has been head of the Milwaukee-co agricultural school and was selected largely because of the desire of the association to foster the farming development of the state. Plans will be announced shortly for a statewide membership campaign. Application will be received from every nonprofit organization in Wisconsin and from business firms and individuals.

HELIUM PURIFYING PLANT SAVES BIG SUM FOR AMERICA

Government Taking Precautions to Prevent Exportation of Gas

By Associated Press
Washington—The location of the German-made, critically rare gas, the United States accentuates the value of that recent acquisition to science, non-explosive helium gas, of which this country possesses a commercial monopoly. The ZIN, which became American property as a reparation payment, was flown to America using hydrogen, but upon its arrival it was inflated with helium.

So important is deemed the American supply of helium, that a measure is pending in Congress to insure its conservation and to prohibit its exportation.

The bureau of mines, to which branch of the department of the interior was entrusted the search for helium and the working out of processes for its recovery, has just installed a new extraction plant at Fort Worth, Texas. There, the confinement with the commercial development of the product, the government will carry forward the new method, which is to be turned over to the navy to operate later, when demonstrated fully successful.

A purification plant has recently been installed at Lakehurst, N. J., home of the navy air plant, Shenandoah. Air seeps in through the huge envelope of the Shenandoah, and when the helium purity is lowered to 85 per cent, through admixture of the air, the mixture is taken out and put into a refrigeration plant and again separated. Helium 95 per cent pure is recovered with only about one per cent loss.

This new purification plant cost about $100,000, but it has already demonstrated a saving of $150,000 each time the gas is taken out and purified. The cost of filling the Shenandoah with unused helium is estimated at $200,000. The purification system enables helium formerly used to be re-purified to its pristine purity and pumped into the Shenandoah for $20,000.

Sources of supply of helium are in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, three states in which it was originally found, and more recently in Utah and Montana, according to Dr. C. S. Lind, of the bureau of mines. The conditions which regulate its retention are not known. Unless helium is found to exist in quantities of one-half of one per cent, mixed with other gases, commercial development is not considered worth while. Two per cent of helium in a well is the maximum.

Helium is "perfectly inert, chemically," says Doctor Lind. "It won't burn or explode, and it might even put out a gasoline fire. While hydrogen can be manufactured anywhere in the world and is universally obtain-

HORSES TRAINED IN CITY AFFECTED BY ROME TRAFFIC PLAN

Rules of Road Will Be Changed from Right to Left During Holy Year

By Associated Press
Rome—One of the most radical changes in the aspect of the Eternal City that will greet the eyes of thousands of pilgrims next year, Holy Year, will be the complete change in traffic regulations. The city authorities have decided to make the rules to the road to the right instead of to the left, as they have been through the centuries.

Work already has begun to change the switches on all the street car lines to conform to the new regulations, which are expected to be put into effect within a few months.

Sticklers for the old order of things, however, are predicting a peck of trouble in making the new rules effective. Custom plays a leading role, particularly in the capital city of the peninsula kingdom.

It is recalled that twelve years ago the same experiment was tried by Mayor Nathan, the only British born mayor Rome ever had, who was bent on making the Roman traffic rules conform to those of the rest of Italy. Everywhere else, except in a few large cities, the rules of the road have always been to the right. But Mayor Nathan ran against a snag, viz: The wine carts.

For generations it has been the custom to transport native wines in barrels on quaint two-wheeled vehicles. The drivers, who are on duty nearly all the time, do most of their sleeping in the daytime, and have trained their horses to go unsteered to their accustomed destinations. Throughout generations these nags have been trained to keep to the left. Wine-carts exist now in as great numbers as ever; so it is predicted that it will be as difficult to change the habits of the wine-horses as it was when Mayor Nathan tried the experiment.

Another difficulty anticipated in the plans concerns the drivers of Rome's 4,000 horse cabs. The plan, as being drawn up, call for special uniform caps with visors for the drivers of horse cabs and taxis; and the cab

LENIN DESCRIBES AIDES IN HIS WILL

By Associated Press

Right—What Nikolai Lenin thought of his own co-workers is revealed in a political testament of his which, according to the Socialistitscheski Wobestnik, has recently been handed by his widow to the central executive committee of the Communist party. In short sentences the late premier writes as follows about various leaders of bolshevik Russia:

Trotsky—Very gifted, but loves to pose too much. It is wrong to accuse him of leaning toward menshevism, for in reality he has always stood on the side of the bolsheviks. He can be an excellently disciplined party member.

Zinovieff—Not gifted, yearning for power. A sharp eye must be kept on him. He can become a danger to the party.

Kamenev—Vagabond. An opportunist, as was proven during the October days of 1917. He must be watched.

Stalin—Not clever, anxious to pick quarrels, a climber who strives to set himself up as dictator.

Bucharin—Not clever, a bad Marxist, who knows nothing about dialectics though he likes to write about it.

Pятаков—Very gifted, but has been smothered of late by administrative work.

drivers are up in arms against bringing in these new fangled ornaments that, they declare, disturb practically the only beloved institution handed down by the middle ages.

The main attraction for being a cab driver at all, they assert, is individuality of dress. They cultivate regular customers to ride in their low-necked Victorias, and they argue that if everybody wears the same head-gear how are their customers going to spot their favorite driver? One might as well join the army!

TRAVELING SECOND CLASS IS AMUSING

By Associated Press

Cork, Ireland—The high cost of railway travel in the British Isles has aroused American tourists of limited means to an investigation of rates throughout Europe, and a general exchange of experiences has begun in hotel lobbies and the offices of tourist agencies as to how Americans can economize in their fares without suffering discomfort.

American parties returning from the continent, consisting largely of teachers, students and other persons of limited means, advised that travel is quite satisfactory in the second-class compartments in practically all the European countries this season. Even the third-class compartments may be used without discomfort in the daytime in all the much-frequented countries of Europe except Italy and Spain, where returned travelers found the second-class accommodations were the cheapest that persons anxious to get to comfortable living could endure without actual distress.

a noticeable change in the attitude of Europeans toward the various classes of travel. Economic upsets have also effected social changes, and in many European countries only war profiteers are riding first-class. A more interesting and better educated class of travelers is found in the second-class and even the third-class compartments.

C. OF C. WILL ASK IMPROVED EXPRESS FACILITIES HERE

Board Also Will Confer on Mail Service—Wort Makes Freight Rate Report

Better express service in Appleton will be asked of the American Railway Express Co. following a motion to that effect at a meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce Wednesday evening. Mail service, the freight rate hearing report by R. G. Wort and the meeting of chamber of commerce officials of the state at Wausau were among the other topics considered.

Joseph Koffend, Jr., Walter Joyce and R. E. Carners were appointed as a committee to confer with Postmaster W. H. Zuehlke concerning the mail service here. Complaints had reached the chamber of commerce that the Saturday half holiday of carriers was delaying delivery of mail to business places Monday mornings because of the overload. The post office has announced that the half holiday will be suspended for this situation being, however, a request will therefore be made of Mr. Zuehlke, however, to have mail boxes placed on corners on the south side of College-ave, as most all now are on the north side.

LACK EQUIPMENT
Local officials and employees of American Railway Express Co. were not blamed for the dissatisfaction in express service here, because it is the fault of the chamber of commerce and the trouble lies in lack of equipment and men to handle the volume of business transacted in Appleton. Secretary Hugh G. Corbett therefore will communicate with the head offices concerning the betterment of service.

Indorsement was given by Appleton Chamber of Commerce through R. G. Wort, local traffic expert, to the resolution passed by shippers attending the western trunk line rate hearing in Chicago recently. Mr. Wort appeared before the board and gave his report as representative of the chamber.

WITHHELD DECISION
No action was taken on the request from Madison Association of Commerce to contribute toward a $36,000 fund to fight freight increases. This is one of the matters that will come before the state meeting of presidents and secretaries Dec 15 at Wausau and sentiment of other chambers will be learned before anything is done locally.

Indorsement also was withheld on a letter received from the chamber of commerce at Spokane, Wash., protesting against attempts of railroads to cut rates below cost on transcontinental freight to ruin the business of the Panama canal.

Progress in arranging the chamber of commerce state conference at Wausau was related by Secretary Corbett. The movement for the meeting was started in Appleton because the chamber felt there was a need for concerted action on state legislation and transportation problems. Traffic managers of various chambers also have been invited. Mr. Corbett said.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS WATCH MRS. CHAPLIN

By Associated Press
Los Angeles—Whether the education of 16-year-old Lillian Louise Murray Chaplin, bride of the film comedian, Charles Chaplin, has been informed to the California compulsory schooling law since her appearance in the movies as Lita Grey, is under investigation by the compulsory education department of the Los Angeles School board says the Los Angeles Times.

The Times, which several days ago published a birth certificate revealing Mrs. Chaplin as much younger woman than the public had believed her to be, quotes Raymond P. Dunley, director of the compulsory education department, as saying Wednesday night that "very careful attention will be given to see that she meets the requirements of the law just the same as any other person of her age, regardless of circumstances."

U. S. JUDGE CONFIRMS RETIREMENT REPORTS

By Associated Press
Grand Rapids, Mich.—Judge C. W. Sessions of the Western Michigan district, Wednesday night at his home here confirmed a Washington dispatch that he was seeking retirement from the federal bench. A bill to permit his retirement so the Western Michigan district was placed before congress Wednesday by Representative James C. McLaughlin, of Muskegon, personal friend of Judge Sessions.

Judge Sessions said Wednesday night that his health was in such condition that it was imperative that he resign soon. The bill calls for his resignation within two months after passage and the judge signified his intention of so doing.

PADLOCK ORDER ROUSES RACINE

By Associated Press
Racine—The order of Judge Geiger in federal court at Milwaukee Wednesday, closing the Klinkert Brewing Co. plant in this city for one year under the provisions of the Volstead act, was the source of considerable discussion here Thursday.

The court ordered a temporary injunction more than two years ago when it was alleged that beer of unlawful alcoholic content was being manufactured. That the temporary injunction should have been permanent a long time ago and would have expired at least a year ago, is the contention raised here.

It is understood that federal officials hold that the present occupants of the plant, known as the Belle City Products Co., will be bound by the order just as much as are the owners mentioned in the injunction. So far there has been no "padlocking" of the brewery. The products concern is not charged with a single violation of the Volstead act. It began to operate under a federal permit last June.

BRIDE'S FATHER PAYS FOR GROOM

Edna Claire—Thomas Bronson, Fort Snelling, Minn., soldier who left a trail of worthless checks in three states shortly after he wooed and wed a Rice Lake, Minn., girl, was released with a $100 fine in district court here Wednesday when his newly acquired father-in-law advanced enough money to "make good" the checks.

While honeymooning in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois, Bronson cashed checks as he went along. It is said that he paid for the marriage license with a worthless check. Furniture, clothes, jewelry and several other objects that struck the fancy of the pair was purchased and paid for "by check." An attempt to pass a $76 check at Rockford, Ill., resulted in Bronson's arrest and return to this city.

Liver Trouble Now Known as Cause of Premature Old Age

Diseases of heart, kidneys, blood vessels due to body poisons

Medical science knows that poisonous waste in our bodies would actually cause death in a few days if not eliminated by Nature's processes. Because it destroys these deadly poisons, the liver is our most important organ—the body's wonderful purifier.

The liver prevents the formation of body poisons that cause diseases of the heart, kidneys, blood vessels and are chiefly responsible for premature old age.

When the liver becomes weak, the poisons are sucked up by the blood and health is broken down. Physicians know that the liver cannot be regulated by drugs, but a safe Nature substance has been discovered which will at once increase the vital bile supply. The discovery is purified ox gall.

Get from your druggist a package of Dioxol. Each tablet contains ten drops of purified ox gall. In 24 hours the poison toxins will be removed. Your liver will be regulated. Blood purification will begin. Sallow skin will clear. You will feel so much better you will know you have found the cause of your ill health. Dioxol tablets are harmless, tasteless and cost less than two cents each.

These genuine ox gall tablets are prepared only under the name "Dioxol." If any tablets is offered you under another name, refuse it. Accept only Dioxol in the original, genuine package. adv.

EXPERT CLAIMS BALLOON TIRES ARE PERMANENT

Biggest Improvement Ever Offered Buying Public, Alfred Reeves Says

Balloon tires are here to stay, and their creation is revolutionizing the building of automobiles, according to Alfred Reeves, general manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce and one of the greatest automobile authorities in the country.

In the motor world Mr. Reeves needs no introduction. For years he has been a guiding hand in formulating new policies and solving momentous questions for the far-reaching betterment of motor car transportation. The motoring public is indebted to him for his aggressive leadership in the good roads movement. At Washington and in the capitals of practical every state he has worked for constructive legislation beneficial to the average automobile owner.

Reeves is interested in every phase of the automotive field. His opinion and his impartial judgment is sought by manufacturer, dealer and owner alike. He is here, there, and everywhere, day after day, keeping his finger on the pulse of the industry.

Arriving in Cleveland this last week with enroute to Akron, where he was scheduled to make one of the important addresses before the Annual Convention of the National Tire Dealers Association, he had just time enough to make a few flying visits to Cleveland friends in the industry, make a few observations regarding present day developments in the automotive world, then step into a Rollin DeLuxe Sedan, placed at his disposal by James G. Heaslip, president of The Rollin Motors Co., Cleveland, and speed to Akron to keep his convention engagement.

"Balloon tires are one of the biggest single improvements ever offered to the motor buying public," said Mr. Reeves. "Their introduction is leading to improvement after improvement, development after development, all of which are bringing about greater comfort and safety, and greater satisfaction for the owner. It is noteworthy, too, that four-wheel brakes came into use in this country about the same time as the introduction of balloon tires, and this is as it should be, for the combination represents what is probably the greatest safety factor ever incorporated in the design of automobiles."

"But the balloon tires and four-wheel brakes are not the whole answer to the riding comfort that the public today demands."

Europe takes Chrysler Six to its heart. Reports from abroad indicate Great Popularity of American Car.

Europe apparently has taken the Chrysler Six to its heart equally as much as has America. Chrysler Motor Corporation officials say, judging from reports reaching them from Europe, countries abroad in which the car has been introduced.

"T. K. T." widely known Irish automobile authority writing in the Belfast News Letters, one of Ireland's leading Newspapers, has this to say of the car:

"I hinted last week that the new American Chrysler was expected in Belfast. It is here, and I have just had a run. I expected to find it a very fine car, but the reports of its performance did it scant justice. On the road I was impressed with the fact that it was the finest car I have ever driven or been driven in, irrespective of price."

"The most remarkable part of the car is the fact that were it not that the speedometer is in front of you, when travelling at 40 miles an hour you would feel certain that the speed was no more than 25. And so fine is the suspension that the roughest roads can be traveled over without any sensation of discomfort. At 55 miles an hour the car appears to be just getting into its stride, and there is a complete absence of vibration of any kind. There is not a trace of being jolted or jarred in the slightest. The speed increase is also steadily maintained over the entire range of throttle opening."

"Readers will possibly have gathered from past references to four-wheel brakes that I am not enamored of them. But I really for the first time enjoyed using the four-wheel brakes on the Chrysler. They free from all jar and work like valves. There is a reason of course. They are hydraulic. Therefore compensation on account of one of the elementary laws of the science of hydraulics must be perfect. There are no rods to break and rattle; the braking power is applied at each wheel must be equal and proportional to that exerted by the fluid compressed. It is comparatively simple to arrange matters that sufficient pressure will be applied to the front wheel brakes to afford the fullest retardation effect without danger of locking them, and it follows that once this happy result has been arrived at this

PARTS OF BATTERY MUST BE GENUINE, IS COURT RULING

Service Dealers are Convicted of Substituting Makes Other Than Advertised

Products of one manufacturer must not be advertised and sold as those of another. The application of this common law rule to the advertising and sale of battery repair parts is established by the conviction of two Ohio service dealers upon evidence collected by the National Vigilance Committee and its affiliated Better Business Bureaus at Columbus and Cleveland.

Carl J. Sheels, president and manager of the G. & M. Service and Specialty Company, operating one of the largest service stations in Columbus, Ohio, was convicted before Judge Fred Miller of the Municipal Court of that city on September nineteenth for violation of the advertising laws of the state. The prosecution was conducted by District Attorney Chester.

The advertising in this case consisted of signs displayed by the G. & M. Service and Specialty Company, which not only represented the premises as an authorized service station but stated that they handled only "genuine" parts. Batteries left with this concern with a specific request for parts of the same make were repaired with parts of other make. The case was hotly contested but both the claim of evidence collected by the Better Business Bureau and the National Vigilance Committee and the legal application of the advertising statute endured all assaults to the complete satisfaction of the Court.

This follows closely upon the conviction of a Cleveland firm, Hoffman & Wagon, for the same practice. This concern, pleaded guilty to the charge, upon advice of counsel. They assured the representatives of the Cleveland Better Business Commission and the National Vigilance Committee, by whom the evidence was collected, that in future their advertising would not misrepresent the make of repair parts used.

STORED BATTERIES DEMAND ATTENTION

"When you put your car up for the winter, if you are one of the many who do, remember that your battery will need attention during the cold months if it is to operate next spring." That is the warning that Mr. Schroeder the Appleton Willard Storage Battery dealer is issuing to his customers.

Mr. Schroeder explains that as long as there is acid in a storage battery, there is chemical action on the plates, whether the battery is in use or not. "If the battery stands idle for several months the electrolyte, as the acid in a battery is called, will deposit a layer of sulphate on the plates and perhaps ruin them," he says.

"Substitution of the battery has various dangers," he claims, "depending on the degree to which it takes place. Sometimes it gets so bad that it destroys the plates entirely. Sometimes it only requires a week or so on a slow charge to fix up. Almost always, however, it makes re-insulation necessary where wood separators are used between the plates. And this is an expensive job on an old battery," he points out.

"The thing to do when the car is put up for the winter," he says, "is to place the battery in the hands of a reliable battery man to be taken care of until it is needed again. Then the idle activity of the acid may be directed so as to preserve the usefulness of the battery and have it ready for instant use when needed."

OLDSMOBILE WILL SHOW AT MAJORITY OF 1925 EXHIBITS

Last Year 143 Cities Saw Product of Olds Motor Works in Salons

Oldsmobile will exhibit at virtually every automobile show and salon during the 1925 season, starting with the Twenty-fifth Silver Jubilee Exhibit opening in New York City, January 2, factory officials announce. Last year Oldsmobile was represented at shows held in 113 cities in this country as well as several foreign salons.

While figures are not available Olds Motor Works feels justified in making the claim that it has been represented by any other manufacturer. The Olds Motor Works is the oldest automobile manufacturing company operating today, having been formed in 1897, more than three years prior to the advent of the first automobile show. The first year start production started 1900 with a four-cylinder, four-valve, dash one cylinder, Mercury Oldsmobiles built and sold.

From the earliest days of automobile exhibits Oldsmobile has taken an active part in these displays, which did much much to foster the popularity of the motor car. Factory officials are of the opinion that these exhibits, even today when the automobile has reached the high mark of being the second largest industry in the country are of untold value.

"These exhibits perform the same function for the automotive industry as do control markets and department stores in other lines of trade," said Thomas O'Brien, assistant sales manager of Olds Motor Works. "By means of the shows the public is given an opportunity to induce in its natural desire to know around and see what is being offered. Many persons dislike shopping along 'automobile row' owing to their being importuned by salesman every time they enter a show room. At the show, however, they can look to their heart's content and see just what the motor industry has to offer them."

"Actual orders taken during the shows usually more than pay for any expense involved, but without doubt three or four times this number of immediate sales result from the annual exhibits in the weeks following."

"Another important feature is the wholehearted support given these exhibitions by the newspapers of the country. This attitude clearly indicates that the editorial mind of America rightly places the automobile business at the top of the list of the country's essential industries. Anything that gains the undivided support of the public press must be fundamentally sound."

In addition to the various body types of the six cylinder Oldsmobile, a cut-away chassis, showing in detail every working part, will be included in most of the show exhibits of Oldsmobile during the coming season.

DODGE BROTHERS REDUCE PRICES

Announcement of a reduction in the prices of all Dodge Brothers Passenger Cars was received by local Dodge Brothers Dealer.

The new prices were effective Monday, Dec. 1st.

The reductions are especially sharp on the closed types. The Type A Sedan, for example, on which the list price was formerly $1,385, is now $1,245. The Type B Sedan, which formerly sold for $1,250, is now $1,100. There is also a reduction from $1,035 to $995 in the list price of the Business Coupe. Dodge Brothers Roadster, under the new price, will sell for $855 and the Touring Car for $835.

The announcement from Dodge Brothers also carried the information that balloon tires are standard equipment on all passenger cars. New prices on Special Type cars are as follows:

Special Roadster	$ 955.00
Special Touring	955.00
Special B Coupe	1085.00
Special B Sedan	1195.00
Special A Sedan	1330.00

The special types carry such extra equipment as nickel-plated radiator shell, motorometer, front and rear bumpers, body stripes, steel disc wheels, scuff plates, cowl lights, and five balloon tires.

Announcement of these reductions provoked endless discussion throughout the entire industry. The year 1924 has been the most successful in Dodge Brothers history and it is now evident that the factory is determined to establish an even more enviable record in 1925. Obviously, the market for Dodge Brothers Motor Cars will be broadened immeasurably by the lower prices, particularly the closed car types.

Substantial improvements in the appearance, riding comfort and other important details of construction and design, plus the car's long-standing reputation for dependable performance, were responsible for the greatly accelerated demand during 1924. For a number of months production was maintained consistently at a rate close to 1000 cars per day.

Prices of Dodge Brothers Commercial Cars and Chasses are not affected by the reductions.

MOTION PICTURE FEATURES FORDS

In "Flexibility," the latest film production of the Ford Motor Pictures Laboratory, the Ford car appears in a new role and tells an interesting and enlightening story.

First showing the Ford as a passenger car, the picture reveals the many uses to which it is put in service, both the individual and the family, in the city and on the farm, and the story is told in such an intimate manner that is bound to appeal to everyone.

Utility of the Ford truck also is depicted, scenes showing how it meets the requirements of many businesses.

Many other interesting features are included pertaining to Ford performance, dependability, adaptability, and economy in operation. There is a wealth of human interest in all the scenes and the photography is excellent. Arrangements for showing the picture are made through Ford dealers or the Milwaukee Branch of the Ford Motor Company.

adjustment is not likely to alter. In fact, I cannot see how the compensating principle can be deranged. In use these brakes are a revelation of smoothness of action combined with powerful operation. They add to the delight in driving a car that apart from braking ability is quite out of the common."

HUDSON CENTERS ACTIVITIES ON ENCLOSED CARS

Appleton Dealer Assures Prompt Delivery to Buyers of Coaches

With the Hudson Motor Car Co., enjoying the greatest autumn season of its history, buyers of Hudson and Essex coaches in this community are assured prompt delivery, according to J. T. McCann Company, Hudson-Essex dealer.

"The great demand now," he said, "is for enclosed cars, and we have arranged our plans so that we can give motorists what they want when they want it. Our own stock of cars has been kept up in good shape, and our plans are further aided because of the great volume of coaches which the factory is shipping daily."

"The building of coaches is no experiment with Hudson-Essex. For three years now Hudson-Essex has centered at least 50 per cent of its volume on this type of car. It is prepared today with the right kind of coaches in plentiful quantities. It has known that the public would want them."

"The rapid switch-over to enclosed cars is most striking. There is a realization everywhere that the motorist who can own only one car will surely want it of the enclosed type. He has to have its all-season utility. Especially in this season of the year the closed car demand is all but unanimous."

Hudson-Essex realized this fact and brought out the first coach, today, the buyer of a Hudson-Essex coach knows that he is purchasing the greatest coach-building experience in the motor world.

"Hudson-Essex is now nearing the end of its greatest year. All over the country, as in our own community, Hudson-Essex sales have consistently and strikingly increased despite the general let-down in the industry earlier in the year. That is because Hudson-Essex had the pioneering courage to build the coach, to design and build the wonderful new Essex six—in brief to supply what the people have wanted."

"The Hudson and Essex coach bodies are identical. Each is of an outstanding high character. The performance of the two cars is similar too, because the design is based on the patented and exclusive Super-Six principle. That accounts for the extraordinary smoothness, power, reliability and endurance."

"Hudson and Essex are built in the same factory, by the same workmen, under the same designs. The difference is in size and price."

LOW PRICE MAKES BUICK BEST BUY

Do you realize at what a remarkable low price you can buy the world-renowned Buick? Have you considered the complete motoring comfort that you can get at such a reasonable cost?

In the complete Buick line there is an automobile to meet every need. You can not only get an incomparable car value but you can get a car that exactly fills your wants.

There are the practical Buick open models that are so popular with thousands of motorists. They are made snug and comfortable by tight fitting side-curtains, or at a slight extra cost they are fitted with a permanent top, a glass enclosure, and a heater. And then there are the Buick closed models, with their bodies built by Fisher, and embodying every desirable motoring comfort.

And all models have the basic features that have made Buick famous: four-wheel brakes, designed and built as an integral part of the car; the smooth, powerful Buick Valve-in-Head engine, the famous Buick clutch, cantilever type springs; the Buick type rear axle and third member. These are all fundamental to a good motor car and they are found in every Buick.

"For the all-weather comfort to be derived from a closed car, people have put up with the inconveniences of divided seats, inadequate provisions for entering and leaving the car, and the short body interiors characteristic of the type which preceded the Twentieth Anniversary Sedan.

"Now that it is possible to obtain a complete sedan with four doors, and ample room for five people of full stature at an attractive price the demand for cars built on this pattern is becoming more active. As a matter of fact, reports from the Reo Motor Car Company convey the information that orders have exceeded production plans to such an extent that the factory will be rushed for months to meet the requirements of Reo distributors and dealers."

CHIEF DEMAND IS FOR CLOSED CARS. REO DEALER FINDS

American Buyer Demands Something More Than Mere Enclosure of Auto

"Something more than just an enclosure is demanded by the American buyer who is a person for a closed car these days," says Mr. Schroeder of the Appleton Reo Co. Reo representatives in this territory.

"This fact has been impressed on us by the number of people who have called to see the new Reo Twentieth Anniversary Sedan, the first full-sized, four-door sedan," selling at open car cost to be placed on the market. Practically every one who has seen it, has declared that Reo has kicked over old standards of motor car values and has anticipated the demand of the motoring public, not merely for closed cars at open car prices, but for full-sized closed cars, at the moderate figures usually associated only with open models."

"For the all-weather comfort to be derived from a closed car, people have put up with the inconveniences of divided seats, inadequate provisions for entering and leaving the car, and the short body interiors characteristic of the type which preceded the Twentieth Anniversary Sedan.

RUSSIAN EXILE'S DEMISE RECALLS POIGNANT TRAGEDY

Young Officer, Popular with All,
Became Victim of Money
Lenders

By Associated Press
HARBIN—China—An officer of the Russian army, whose name evokes among Russian émigrés a poignant memory of a tragedy which is unexpressed in the words of his will and obituary notice.

So, perhaps, was the scene of the tragedy. The officer was a young man, one of the most brilliant and capable of the Russian army. He was a member of the "White Guard" and a close friend of the late General Denikin. He was a man of high character and high ability, and he was a man of high social position. He was a man of high social position.

Finally the chance of a wealthy marriage gave promise of release for the young man from his financial troubles. He informed the money lender of his good luck and obtained more money.

The money lender told the young officer that he planned a fine wedding present for the occasion of his marriage. Misinterpreting the man's meaning and taking it to be a threat that the notes would be presented for payment or protest, the young officer foresaw himself ruined and resorted to desperate measures. The money lender was found dead in his own house a few days later, and the crime was traced to the borrower. The police discovered among the old man's effects a package neatly tied with ribbon containing all of the other's notes. An inspection showed that this was to have been the wedding gift.

Evidence of the young officer's guilt was clear and he was sent to Siberia. Old residents of Siberia tell many stories of his remorse-stricken life which has just ended in penury and misery.

LONE PREACHER COVERS ONE THIRD OF OREGON

By Associated Press
EUGENE, Ore.—The Rev. William Ward has a charge that covers one-third of the state of Oregon. Of one part of his rounds through the eastern end of the state, he remarked: "Sixty-five miles without seeing a ranch house or a dog to bark at me."

In this district there are 20,000 square miles given to cattle ranges. Dr. Ward works under the synod of the Presbyterian church.

SWISS GLACIERS BEGIN TO REVERSE MOVEMENT

By Associated Press
Bern—Scientific observations seem to show that the Swiss glaciers are receding. The advance during the last ten years has come to a stop. From 100 observations taken last year, 55 glaciers were found to be receding and only 24 advancing, whereas in 1914-15 63 out of 100 were creeping forward. The last great period of retrogression was between the years 1856 and 1904, but since 1905 the greater part of the glaciers appeared to be going forward until last year, when the new period of withdrawal set in.

TRAPPERS PUSH NORTH FOR FURS

New Posts Opened Each Season to Meet Increasing Needs of Fashion

By Associated Press
St. John's N. F.—The hunt for fur is extending northward year by year, according to officials of the great fur companies operating from this city to the Labrador Coast and into Hudson's Bay. Each season, they say, new posts are opened to widen the field of the pelt hunter northward into the Arctic.

The Hudson's Bay Co. and Revillon Freres, the "old" company and the "new" already have dispatched their steamers on their annual tour of the northern posts.

All the way up the coast of Labrador and into Hudson's Bay are scattered fur posts which in many cases have been carrying on business with the natives for years. Gradually, company hands say, the operations have extended northward, the Hudson's Bay Co. especially seeking out new fur fields. This company now has a numerous chain of posts in Baffinland and other areas north of Hudson Strait. In recent years the trading operations of both companies have been very successful and the fur catches large.

Two years ago the Hudson's Bay Co. undertook to establish a herd of reindeer in Baffinland with a view to augmenting the meat supply of the region. The company was encouraged in its experiment by the success of a similar project in Alaska. Instead of meeting with the success achieved with the reindeer in Alaska the Hudson's Bay Co. met with partial failure, and the herd now is small.

PLOWMAN FINDS OLD ROMAN ARMOR

By Associated Press
KARAGATCH, Bulgaria—A peasant plowing near this village turned up one of the most interesting archaeological finds made in recent years. When the plow struck an obstruction the peasant found it was a slab of marble. Lifting this a marble tomb was disclosed and within lay a suit of bronze armor of a Roman knight, together with shield, sword, spear and several utensils, including an exquisite vase.

Director Velkoff, of the National Museum, and Mr. Popoff, an expert on Greek antiquities, estimate that the find dates back to the pre-Alexandrine period. They surmise that he may have been a dweller of a Hellenic colony on the Black Sea coast.

On the helmet, well preserved and of a high order of workmanship, were the figures of Apollo, Pallas Athena, Poseidon, Minerva and Mars. One ear-piece found bore the figure of Zeus with the trident. The other ear-piece was lacking. The helmet was silvered, and some of the white metal still adhered. The human figure that once wore the helmet and carried the weapons was entirely absent, except in the form of ashes in small amount.

"The knight who bore the armor was evidently a high personage," said Director Velkoff. "Therefore, after his body had been deposited in the grave it was burned, an early instance of cremation."

DECLINE OF CORSETS ERADICATES DISEASE

By Associated Press
Berlin—One of the few diseases in Germany that have shown a decline in recent years is chlorosis, also known as "green sickness." According to Professor Rudolf Lennhoff, the practical disappearance of the disease is to be directly ascribed to the discarding of corsets by women.

Whirligig Gas

UNDER today's conditions, the quality of ordinary motor fuel is as shifty as the wind.

Coming from pooled sources, dumped into indiscriminate storage and redistributed to an everchanging swarm of retail bidders who demand little more than a profit-promising price and a perfunctory gravity test, it would be a marvel if two fillings precisely alike ever find their way to the same pump.

And it is the motors of careless buyers that must pay the penalty. With pick-up gas, varying at every fill in power, explosiveness and proportion of residues, there can be neither comfort, dependence or final motor health.

Wadhams True Gasoline

goes through no such whirligig antics in making or distributing. From the selection of its first grade crude petroleum, through every process of its refining, each step in its production is definitely controlled and brought to an exact specification of outstanding excellence. It is always alike, delivering with complete dependability its unvarying mead of full-volumed power, immunity from free carbon and certain insurance against residues of heavy kerosene.

Dinner Clubs Are First To Cut Food Rations To Help Near East Orphans

Soup, bread and butter and a glass of milk or a cup of coffee are about the only edibles that will be served to members of the Appleton dinner clubs when they meet next week. They are planning to observe international golden rule day this way, eating an orphan's meal and giving the remainder of the money usually expended for dinner to the Near East relief fund.

Rotary and Kiwanis clubs already have made their arrangements to observe the day and the Lions club board of directors will meet to consider like action. Rotarians and Kiwanians will have their lunch served at Appleton Women's clubhouse on their respective days. The exact menu has not been decided.

This action was taken by the clubs so that they might set an example and stir the general public to do likewise. The international plan is to have every home forego the usual sumptuous Sunday dinner and eat a few plain, sustaining morsels instead. The money otherwise spent for food is to be donated to the fund by which America is keeping alive thousands of Armenian orphans in Turkey. They depend entirely on this country for support from year to year.

A substantial contribution will be made by the dinner clubs, as there will be perhaps 150 men who will eat a meal costing about 25 cents where they usually pay 75 cents. Fifty cents will go to the Near East treasury for each member.

The churches are backing the frugality idea and asking their members to share their plenty with the motherless Armenian babes. Henry W. Tuttrup, president of the Citizens National bank, is receiving the money gifts locally to be sent to the Milwaukee headquarters.

Christmas Gifts of Candy

Always seem to fit in anywhere. Every girl has a sweet tooth, and Candy will satisfy it.

PALACE CANDY

Goes further than that. It always leaves a lasting, pleasant memory.

The PALACE "THE HOME OF BETTER CANDY"

I Sell the Flavor — in Coffee

Flavor isn't an indefinite thing. It's a definite thing. The trouble is it hasn't been standardized.

Sugar, for example, is standardized. Every sugar contains the same amount of sweetness actually measured. But the beets or the cane that it comes from are a long way from standardized. One beet will have 8% of sugar and another will have 17%.

You'd hate like everything to pay the same price for beets and then try to get the sugar out yourself.

Perhaps this illustration of sugar will give you some idea of why there can be such a wide range in coffee.

It doesn't mean anything to buy coffee beans or ground coffee by the pound, unless you know how much coffee flavor they contain.

It is my business to see to it that when you buy Webb coffee you get 50 cups of full flavor to the pound. And when you get that you are paying the lowest price for coffee flavor that there is on the market.

Thomas J. Webb

Dear Madam:

Do you realize the service your grocer is giving you? Just sit down to your phone any time you need groceries, when you are baking, getting your dinner or luncheon, or unexpected company arrives, and phone your grocer, and you know you are going to get your goods in a very short time.

Even the smallest grocer handles nearly a complete line of perishable goods for you with very little profit to him. Groceries from every country in the world and every state in the union are sold in your store.

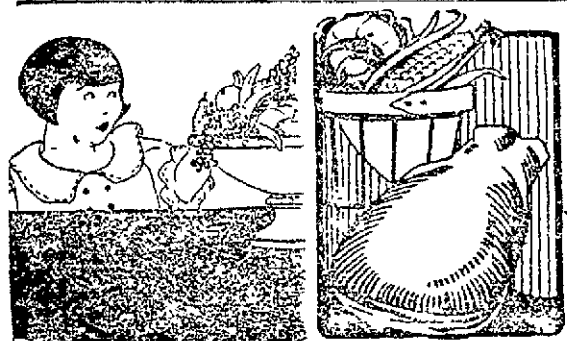

This year your grocer has a large assortment of fancy nuts, candies, Xmas tree decorations, etc.

This is mince meat and fruit cake time. You can get everything you need by calling your store. If he hasn't got it he surely will get it for you.

Your grocers' terms are very liberal. All he asks is that your account is paid every thirty days.

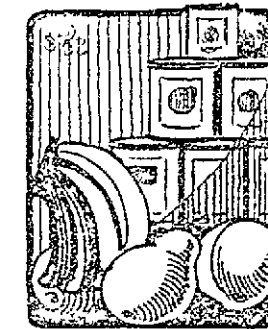

Yours truly,

Appleton Grocers

How Often Have We Heard Someone Remark

"My Isn't That Expensive"

Over some particular article that seems to cost a little more than the average. In most cases, that remark is unfounded. If one should investigate the article in question, she would find that it is a little better made, that it will last a little bit longer, or that in some way or other she would really get more for her money than if she had purchased the cheaper article. So it is with Voecks Bros. Meat, it costs a little bit more, but it is worth a great, deal more.

Eggless Fruit Cake To Fill Christmas Box

There is no more appropriate or appreciated Christmas gift for those away from home than a well-filled box of cake, cookies and candies.

A holy box packed with a square fruit cake, some Christmas cookies and the rest of the space filled with good homemade candy will delight the hearts of all.

Since eggs are so high this year, why not make an eggless fruit cake. After baking and cooling the cake, wrap it in a towel dampened with grape juice. Store in a tight tin or earthen jar. Watch closely and as the cake absorbs the moisture, rejam-pen the towel.

Keep the cake in a cold place. Bake at least four weeks before wanted for use.

EGGLESS FRUIT CAKE

One pound fat salt pork, 2 cups boiling water, 2 cups brown sugar, 1 cup molasses, 1 tablespoon each cloves and nutmeg, 2 tablespoons cinnamon, 1 pound raisins, 1 pound currants, 1/2 pound citron, 1/2 pound candied cherries, 2 cups nut meats, 4 tablespoons strong cold coffee, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 3 cups flour, 1 table-spoon vanilla.

Remove rind and any bits of lean meat from salt pork. Chop very fine and pour over boiling water. Mix well and let stand until lukewarm. Stone raisins. Clean and dry currants. Sliced citron. Com-bine fruit with candied cherries and mix with one cup flour. Mix and sift remaining flour with baking powder and soda. Add sugar, molasses and spices to softened fat. Mix well and add prepared fruit. Mix thoroughly and add coffee and vanilla. Add flour and nut meats mix well. Be sure the flour is com-pletely blended with the other in-gredients. Turn into large pan lined with buttered paper and bake in a slow oven for two and one-half hours.

EGG FRUIT CAKE

Perhaps this is the "first" Christ-mas, and nothing short of the most extravagant fruit can quite express the festivity of the event.

No matter if you are an inex-perienced cake-maker you can bake one of these fruit cakes. The ut-most care, however, is needed dur-ing baking. A cool oven is im-perative.

Keep the temperature even. A quick flash of heat may spoil the cake. If you are not sure that you can regulate the oven properly, steam the cake for three hours. Then put in a moderate oven to bake.

THE RECIPE

Two cups butter, 2 3/4 cups light brown sugar, 1 large egg, 1 cup pastry flour, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup strong cold coffee, 1 cup currant jelly, 2 pounds raisins, 2 pounds currants, 2 pounds dates, 1 pound citron, 1/2 pound candied cherries, 1/2 pound candied orange peel, 1/2 pound candied lemon peel, 2 1/2 cups blanched and shredded almonds, 2 tablespoons cinnamon, 1 nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1 tablespoon vanilla.

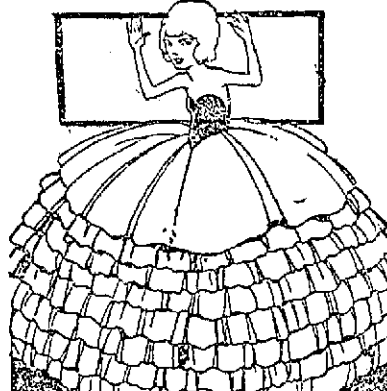

Cream butter and slowly beat in sugar. Beat eggs well with a dower beater. Stir one-half cup flour into butter and sugar. Add eggs well beaten. Before beginning to mix the cake, seed and chop the raisins, clean and dry the currants, slice and shred citron, stone and chop dates, cut cherries into small pieces and shred the lemon and orange peels. Mix the prepared fruits with one extra cup flour. Add jelly to the first mixture. Mix thoroughly and add flour and coffee alternately. Add prepared fruits, nuts, spices and vanilla. Dissolve soda in molasses and add the last thing. Mix the cake thoroughly after the addi-tion of each ingredient. If the but-ter is not well salted, one-half tea-spoon of salt should be added to the cake. Turn into well oiled and floured deep cake pans, cover with buttered paper and steam three hours. Bake one and one-half hours in a slow oven.

This rule makes three good-sized loaves.

Christmas Presents

PILLOWS

An ornamental pillow for the boudoir makes a nice gift. Create the billowing ermine-like skirts of Civil War days by covering a satin-covered pil-low with tiny ruffles of silk or ribbon. Then in the center arrange a roll of the boldest being of color in con-trast with the skirt. Pin cushions and fancy powder boxes can be worked out along the same lines.

TELEPHONE FROM BEATRICE GRIMSHAW TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

"Hello, Leslie, this is Bee. Where have you been? I have been trying to get you for a half hour."

"How are you, Bee? I did not hear the phone because I was in the nursery. I did not expect you so soon. I'm so glad to hear your voice."

"I didn't expect to get here so soon, either, but I came through from Cleveland by motor with Dick."

"How lovely. Is Dick over at Sally's with you now?"

"No, dear, he's at the hotel. He has some movie picture business to attend to here. I have a stupendous piece of news to tell you. If you want us to, Dick and I will be mar-ried at your anniversary party. I have promised to marry Dick tomor-row and go back to Hollywood to-morrow. Don't you think it would be nice to have the wedding party enter just as we did three years ago, Leslie? Then when we reach a cer-tain place in your drawing room Sydney Carton could step back. Dick would step forward, and supported by you and Jack, we could be mar-ried."

"Beatrice Grimshaw, you never in your conventional mind planned such a marriage as this! It's a reg-ular movie picture affair. Come up in half an hour and I'll get a hold of Jack and we'll get it all fixed up. Goodbye."

Telephone From Beatrice Grimshaw to Dick Summers

"Will you please connect me with Mr. Summers' room?"

"Party on the line for you, Mr. Summers."

"Dick, this is Bee. I have just been talking with Leslie, and she thinks it would be lovely for us to be married at her home. Isn't that sweet of her?"

"Anything is sweet of anybody. Bee, dear, that will let me take you back to Hollywood with me. I know that if I am married, however, with-out having Paula Perler at the wed-ding, she never will forgive me. I promise her that I will do this. Do you think we could get Leslie to invite Paula?"

"I don't know. Dick, I know that I wouldn't care to ask Leslie. You know there was more or less talk about Jack, her husband, and Miss Perler, before she went into pic-tures."

"I'll ask Jack, anyway. Maybe he'll persuade his wife to let her come. You know Leslie paid her a great deal of attention when she was here before."

"Now look here, Dick Summers, I don't intend to have my wedding made a publicity affair for some moving picture actress. If you want to, after our marriage, we will go home on the same train with Paula Perler, but I don't care to have her at my wedding, particularly as I have been a little jealous of her my-self."

"That's the first time you have owned it, dearest, and for that we won't say a word about it to her. When are you going to let me come over?"

"I'm going over to Leslie's in about a half an hour. You can call for me there about an hour after-ward, Goody, dear."

"Goodbye."

Navy Blue Frock

Embroidery is being used more dis-criminately than usual this season and therefore is more effective than ever before. On this navy blue frock the tan embroidery not only brightens up the dress itself, but it emphasizes the best lines without detracting from their simplicity. The sleeves are un-usual and so is the use of the buttons following the side seam on the skirt.

STAND FOR IRON

A common-paving brick makes a very good stand for an iron since it holds heat.

Adventures Of The Twins

A Letter from the Fairy Queen
The Twins found a letter from the Fairy Queen one morning under their porridge dishes on the breakfast table. Or rather Nancy found it under hers, for, of course, a letter cannot be un-der two porridge dishes at once.

The letter said:

"Dear Twins:
"Mother Goose and Daddy Gander asked me to send you word that they have invited the Riddle Lady to Mother Goose Land to spend a few days."

"She is going to stay" at Mrs. John's house, or rather, at the House-That-Jack-Built, for it's the same thing. Mrs. John, being Jack and Jill's mother, people call it Mrs. John's, you know.

"Everybody in Mother Goose Land loves the Riddle Lady because they have so much fun when she is there. Every day she asks a riddle and gives a prize to the person who guesses the answer first."

"Mrs. John will serve tea and cakes, or maybe cider and doughnuts, and I am sure everybody would be very glad to have you. Put on the magic shoes you will find hidden behind the um-brella stand, and then wish your-selves up on the roof. Daddy Gander will be waiting for you with his magic dust-pan."

"I hope that you all have a very good time."

"Lovingly yours,
"The Fairy Queen."

"Oh, goody," cried Nancy.

"Hooray!" shouted Nick.

"What's all the fuss about?" asked Cook coming in from the kitchen.

"When your Mother's away, I don't see how you can be so happy."

"Oh, but we're going away, too," said Nick.

"Sit!" whispered Nancy.

Kellogg's Bran delights father by bringing health to children

Poor little kids—they needed bran badly. But they wouldn't eat ordi-nary bran. They didn't like them. Most folks don't. Then their father tried Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. What a difference! He tells the story in his letter:

"Dear Sirs:

I wish to express my appreciation of your krumbled bran, which I have used for my children this summer. We had a great deal of trouble with them through constipation, and bran had been the most satisfactory rem-edy but they could not be induced to take the old varieties. . . . because they disliked them so. They enjoy the krumbled bran and consider it an essential ingredient of their porridge. No one whose children have not been troubled in this way can appreciate the relief there is in having their bowels move regularly."

(The original of this letter is on file at the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich.)

Constipation is a dangerous disease. It should not be neglected. But do not try half-way measures in seeking relief. Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. And it takes ALL bran to be 100% effective. Kellogg's Bran is guaran-teed to bring permanent relief, if eaten regularly, in the most chronic cases. If it fails, your grocer will re-turn your money.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. The flavor is delicious. Sprinkle it on other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes on every package. It will bring you health. Begin eating it to-day. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

Christmas Candy

SCOTCH BROWNIES

This is a simple delicious candy that the children could make. Of course hot sirup is a dangerous thing for small hands to manipulate, but the boys and girls who have not the muscle to stir fudge and fon-dant, or the patience, will love to make the brownies.

One and one-fourth cups brown sugar, 6 teaspoons vinegar, 2 table-spoons butter.

Mix sugar, vinegar and butter thoroughly in a smooth sauce pan. Put over a slow fire and bring slowly to the boiling point. Boil gently

Fables With Pointers On Your Health

Some time ago a report was printed that malnutrition was found as fre-over a low fire until brittle when a few drops are tried in cold water. Do not stir while cooking.

The sirup must snap when tried in cold water.

Drop from the tip of a spoon onto a marble slab or oiled paper or make thin wafers.

quently in the children of the well-to-do as in the children of the poor.

This may or may not have been accurate, but it is a fact that many children of families in good financial circumstances are underweight and undernourished.

Here are some signs to observe in a child:

Paleness of skin, lines appearing under eyes, rounding shoulders, flat-bellied, weak feet, stooping posture, laxness.

Look, too, for irritability, nervous-ness, timidity, forgetfulness and poor resistance to disease.

Most of these are signs of under-nourishment and need of a better regulated diet and more exercise. It is well to consult a doctor concerning the child, for such signs occur in troubles other than malnutrition and it is well to find out.

Graham Crackers and Milk

JUST set a teasing tumbler of milk and a dish heaped with Johnston's Graham's before the kiddies and it'll do your heart good to watch 'em "go to it." As refreshing and wholesome a combination as you could ask for—Johnston's Graham's are energy-building and go hand in hand with better health for growing young bodies. Fully as delight-ful for the older folks. Made crisp and "crinkly" as only Johnston can make them. Ask your grocer. He always carries a fresh supply in bulk or in moisture-proof cartons.

JOHN M. BALLIET FILES VOLUNTARY BANKRUPTCY WRIT

Reverses in Contracting Business Causes Him to File Petition

Unable to overcome reverses which he encountered while engaged in large sewer construction projects in Milwaukee-co. John M. Balliet of Appleton, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. His total liabilities amount to $100,881.12, of which $51,162.28 represents secured claims. He lists cash assets amounting to $31,141.21 and is the indorser and guarantor on notes and bills for others amounting to $74,222.24.

None of the creditors of Mr. Balliet is in Appleton except the Citizens National bank and claims of this institution are fully secured.

Mr. Balliet's difficulties began in September, 1922 when he became an indorser on sewer contracts of the Metropolitan Sewerage commission of Milwaukee-co aggregating $855,000. The projects covered four miles of a tunnel in North Milwaukee and the bonds were executed by Fidelity and Deposit company of Maryland.

The company which Mr. Balliet indemnified, known as Midwestern Construction Co. became short of money and the Appleton man was forced to become a copart owner and pay in additional money in order to protect his interests. One of the partners embezzled about $10,000 last summer and caused the company to be placed under a receivership. Unsecured credit amounting to $27,500 was cancelled by the First Wisconsin National bank, Milwaukee and a deficit of about $80,000 was accumulated.

Mr. Balliet went into court at Milwaukee and agreed to assume liabilities of the company so as to finish the work in the hope that he might emerge with the debts paid.

Heavy rains occurred every month during the spring and summer causing costly delays to the sewer work and huge expenses due to water filling the trenches. While the projects were completed by Mr. Balliet under the name of Balliet Construction Co. the work was done at heavy losses. The dry weather did not start until the last work had been done.

Mr. Balliet plans to continue his insurance and bond business here, making a new start.

NEW COMPLAINT IN SPENCER CASE

Mrs. Delphino Spencer was rearrested Friday noon by Sheriff Otto Zuehlke following the dismissal of the $2,000 embezzlement charges of Pettibone-Peabody company against her. The new complaint charges her with petty larceny in the sum of $19. It was expected that she might be arraigned Friday afternoon.

When the case reopened Friday morning before Judge Fred V. Heinemann, who was acting for Judge A. M. Spencer in the case, John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, asked leave to amend the complaint. The court replied, however, that the district attorney was actually asking for a new complaint and that the proper procedure would be to enter a motion for a dismissal of the old complaint first. The district attorney thereupon entered the motion and the case was dismissed.

A new complaint was ready, but Mrs. Spencer could not be found in order to have the warrant served on her. The arrest was made later. The district attorney made a move for a new trial on the petty larceny charge after the court ruled out Mrs. Spencer's signed confession which the defense contended, had been obtained under duress. This left the state with evidence sufficient to prosecute her only on the petty larceny charge.

QUASH PLANS TO CONSERVE GAME

By Associated Press
Madison—Disapproval of the plan proposed by Elmer S. Hall, state conservation commissioner, for adding a new game and conservation warden in each county of the state next year, was shown by the state board of public affairs when it eliminated from the conservation budget an item of $105,000 for this purpose, it was learned Friday.

The action of the board practically eliminates proposals for enlargement of the conservation program, it is said. The board allowed an increase of $20,000 for administrative purposes.
